Through the 1993-94 school year, C.H.S. has done many things that are outstanding! The first highlight was starting school. Uh-yeah. Then we were all thrilled to be in the football play-offs. That was great! The Pom Pons went to Florida and had a heck of a good time. The cheerleaders also went to Nashville. On a cold day in December, the entire school went to the gym for a photo with Santa. Santa was actually Mr. Caras. Prom was a total blast. The music was great, the food was good. What a night! Graduation. Need we say more? The happiest day for the seniors! The very last day of school. That alone is the best thing ever.

Eric Hanson, Brian Cardona, Zach Van Dyke, Chad Erickson, and Dean Caras await the commencement ceremony.

Dan Stratiev and Meike Furhmann were an addition to the interesting times at C.H.S.

Staci Gibson, Kala Franck, Amy Jeffries, Tara Snell, Coni Dobbels, Sarah Dobbels, and Stacy Stout go crazy at prom!

Chad Humphrey, Amber Maynard, Dawn Rapp, Ben Ahring, Natalie Stackhouse, Amy Jeffries, Jason Burns, Meike Furhmann, Renee Allen, Todd Maertens, Kate Yarger, Jamie Welch, and Brian Cardona sing the final song to "Meet Me In St. Louis."

The play-offs against Annawan proved to be an exciting moment for C.H.S.

WORLDLY STYLES

Dressing differently from everyone else shows diversity and self-confidence. If you have a hat that YOU love, WEAR IT! All of the other people that laugh at you are obviously suffering from a unique style deficiency syndrome. In more blunt terms, they're BORING! Only those of us with imaginations can appreciate an original perspective of how to express ones feelings. So here are a few examples of awesome dressing at C.H.S.!!!

Amber Duncan proudly models her stylish bell-bottoms.

The senior class is filled with casual styles.

Annette Gradert, Megan Bowers, Kari Wells, and Cori Peterson show-off their flannel.

Todd Maertens and Jason Burns demonstrate the style of the Blues Brothers at a home basketball game.

Kala Franck and Amy Jeffries show their worldly way of dressing.

Jack Capps grins about his combat boots.

Jessie McClain is a sight of comfort in her long underwear and "Chains" T-shirt.

Where in the WORLD

Would you go?

The Viking Staff went around the school and asked people where they would go if they could go anywhere at any time. We received many answers. These are a few of the answers we chose for you!

Mr. Dan Caras-

Tahiti!!! Tropical beautiful paradise. I won't know anyone and not many people have the funds to go there. I'll retire there. I want to walk around and do what I want and no one will see me. I'll travel the Pacific!!!!

Mr. Carl Goff- "I would go to Tahiti when it was first discovered. It was beautiful and untouched by man."

Meike Furhman- "I would go to the United States and I HAVE!"

Mr. Micheal McAvoy- "I'd go to London in 1600 to see if I could get a job at the Globe Theater." (Where Shakespeare worked.)

Jason Burns- "I'd go to Greece because I can say 'I love you' in Greek!"

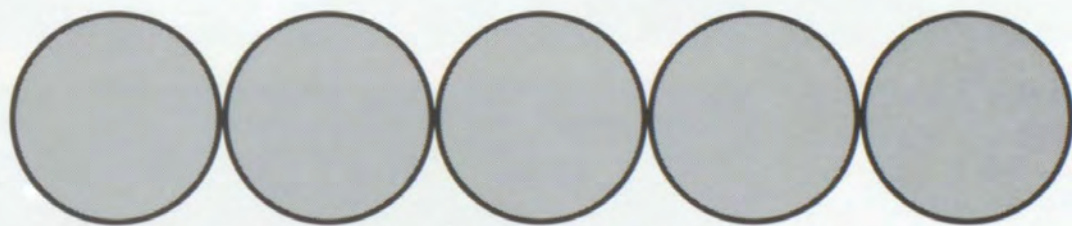

Kala L. Franck- "I would jump on the first plane to Australia!!!!!! The land down under!!!!!! Roam around and talk to people that I don't know and see kangaroos and koalas! They also snorkel around Australia so I would have to see some coral. I would bring my friends back some sand and keep the rest for myself!!!!!"

Homecoming '93!

Homecoming '93 was a memorable experience for all. The week was filled with fun and activities. Noon time activities and dress up days included: Monday-Auction of the slaves, selling 6 Cheerleaders and some macho football players; Tuesday-Burping contest and as expected, Jack Fulscher was the winner, and everyone wore hats and shades, or concert t-shirts; Wednesday-pie eating contest and class color day; Thursday-Wrap up the Tigers with toilet paper and plaid, stripes, and polka dot day; and finally, Friday-Tug of War, and of course the Seniors win it again!

Way to go Seniors!! Also, everyone showed their Viking Spirit, by wearing Maroon and White. The Cheerleaders decorated the hallways, made locker signs for the football players, painted windows, and had these activities planned every day for Spirit Week.

Everyone always looks forward to the bonfire Thursday night. The band, Cheerleaders, Poms, and even the players and their parents entertained the crowd. The highlight of the evening came with the presentation of this years court and the lighting of the bonfire by the King and Queen, Reese Berry and Jeanetta Cauwels.

Zach VanDyke, Cory Nussear, Kevin Lievens, and Chad Humphrey clap as they watch the festivities.

LeAnna Ahring and Natalie Stackhouse salute the U.S. flag.

The winning float for the parade was built by the Sophomore class.

Troy Swanson, Nathan Brewer, Kelly Palmer, Chad Humphrey, T.J. Walline, Janet Stevens, and Shelly Williams blow up balloons for the dance.

Bree Palmer, Kala Franck, Amy Jeffries, and Nikki Allen cheer along to one of the chants done by the cheerleaders.

Looking and laughing at Emily Knox and Reese Berry, slave owners Jim Ries, Troy Swanson, Lance Edmund, Josh Carlson, and Dean Caras rule their power.

John Franks gets tackled by a Tiger as Justin Boberg looks on.

Under the influence of the music, Matt Moriarity, Kelsi Walline, Pat Helke, and Bree Palmer dance.

CLOSE UP

The first thing on their minds was to raise money. They each needed $1010.00 to go on the trip.

One fund raiser was having the teachers play 97X in December. They also had a 50's dance on January 16th. Their last fund raiser was Marketday at the gradeschool. They each made their own money and were able to go on the trip. Take off date was set for March 27th. They saw many sights and had an extremely busy schedule. They probably didn't get as much sleep as they would have liked, but over-all the adventure was a memorable one. They experienced many workshops, saw Capital Hill, went to a few debates, had a few of their own debates, saw the Jefferson Memorial, ate, slept, walked, and remained constantly active. They left for home on April 2nd.

Quotes

Tanya Hepner- "The most moving experience I had was seeing the Vietnam Wall."

Johnill Cauwels- "My favorite part was the National Archives."

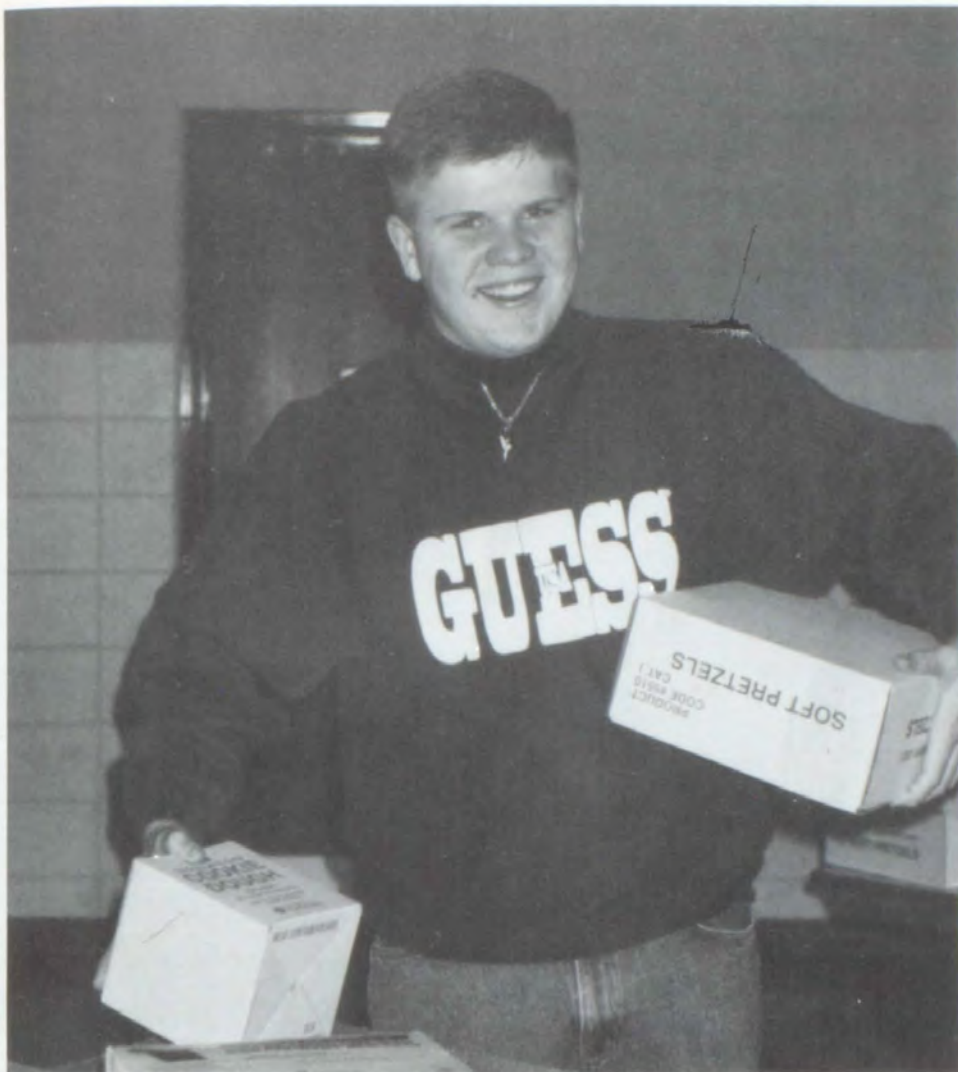

Eric Hanson- "Capital Building"

Miss Swanson stops for a moment at the hotel banquet.

Eric Hanson and Tanya Hepner wait to cross the street after seeing the underground mall.

Sadie Hawkins S ADIES

Sadie Hawkins is a girls chance to get her man. Your not only supposed to ask the guy, but, you buy dinner, pictures, and you take him to the obstacle race where you catch him and he is held at gun point to marry you!

This year's dance was held Friday, March 11th from 8:00 to 11:00. The D.J. was Dean Resser of Geneseo. Everyone seemed to have a good time. One thing couples love to do every year is to dress in matching shirts.

The back-drop committee was made up of Amy Jeffries, Nikki Bowman, Anna Richter, Beth Blade, and Erin Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Rumley helped the couples start the race.

Quotes!

Staci Gibson- I loved all of the fast dancing.

_____ The line dancing was great!

Amy Jeffries- I liked knowing that it was one of my last dances.

Heather Maynard, Beth Blade, Erin Moore, Sara Beam, and Shea Weyland dance wildly like the crazy people they are. It's cool that seniors and freshmen can dance together and have such a good time.

Jessica Secymore, Chuck Polowy, Matt Moriarity, and Kelsi Walline hang out.

Adam Sovey races away as his girlfriend Erika Nipper quickly signs her name and gives chase.

Neil Gardner and Melody Drescher laugh as Neil gets taken to the end of the obstacle for marriage.

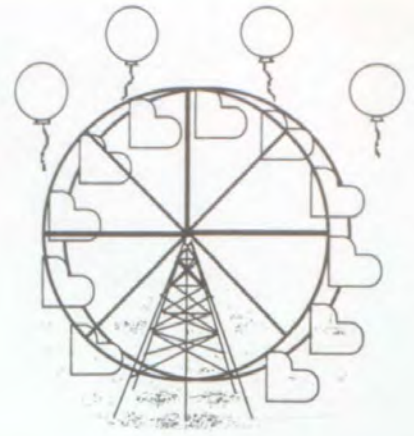

Erin Moore laughs hysterically as the camera man goes crazy at the dance.

Brian Cardona listens carefully as Mrs. Rumley explains the course.

Jamie Nicholson and Nicole Heck (with gun) carry out their role as "Marryn' Sam".

This was definately the year for changes. Not only did Viking Staff get a new advisor they also got a new publishing company, computer program, and yearbook representative. For the people who were on the staff last year it was a little difficult making the transitions. But for the new members who didn't have to make the transition, they seemed to catch on fairly well.

In September the girls on the staff attended a yearbook workshop along with six other schools at St. Bede Academy in LaSalle-Peru. While there they met with the artist, Craig Simpson, to make the final adjustments for the cover.

To raise some extra money this year, the staff sponsored a Halloween dance. Kris Wexell was the D.J. with a cameo appearance by the live band Wicked Snide. The band consisted of Michael Crapnell, Jason Burns, Juston Vermost, Chris Stufflebeam of Geneseo, and Jason Crapnell (a graduate of C.H.S.).

Viking Staff would like to thank Mrs. Rumley for all her time and patients, also a big thanks to Craig Simpson for all the time and talent he put in on our cover. We hope you enjoy the book!!

The costume winners at the Halloween dance were front, Merena Goff, Shelly Williams, Tom Folger, back, Mrs. Shirley Miller, Carrie Green, and Miss Barb Swanson.

Concert Choir

The choir was joined by a new face this year. Her name is Mrs. Mary Meaker. She had only taught grade school kids prior to taking this job. But she seemed to fit in really well. She wasn't scared of all the challenges ahead of her. With all kinds of help and support it appears she did an excellent job for her first high school choir.

The events that the choir participated in this year included Open House, Fall concert, Christmas concert, singing at the Grade School for Christmas, and Mus-Art in the Spring. Other events choir members could participate in if they cared to include; IMEA, Solo & Ensemble, and the musical.

NHS

National Honor Society

1994

The National Honor Society's requirements for membership reflect excellence in four essential areas: scholastic, leadership, character, and service. These four criteria assure that all NHS members are among the best of our school, community, and nation. Membership in NHS means that one has excelled in a variety of endeavors. Our Cambridge charter was granted in 1951. - Michael McAvoy

19⁹⁴ National Art Honor Society

The National Art Honor Society inducted 6 new members. One of them included foreign exchange student Meike Fuhrmann. The society along with chapters from area towns went to Chicago on March 19th for their annual visit to the Chicago Art Institute. The group later ventured to the Water Tower Mall and then experienced a fun dinner theater and a performance of Mame. This trip really out did last years. The group worked at concession stands and sold candy bars to raise money for the trip.

FHA HERO

FHA activities started with a welcome for freshmen and new members and continued with a variety of things for the members, including two Section Rallies at Cambridge, and a Region Rally at Princeton. At year's end was a trip to the Amana Colonies for all who had been active enough to earn 80 points, and the banquet at Anthony's in Kewanee, for all members, and their guests.

Coni Dobbels was elected President of Section 2B, and Dawn Rapp was elected Historian and Parliamentarian. It is great to have officers at this state level.

QUOTE-" With competitive sports for girls and the general acceptance of after school work, it becomes harder and harder to find time for club activities, I admire the girls who are still able to find time for FHA." -

Tara Snell mixes up icing to put the finishing touches on the cake.

"Okay guys, are we smoking today or drinking? Come on, we have to pick one." Not exactly words you would expect to hear from the health teacher- but then, this isn't health class. It's a PRT meeting and the members are trying to decide what to do for their next skit.

There are twelve members of the Peer Resistance Team (split into two groups) and two advisors. Twice a year the team goes over to Cambridge Elementary school where they teach fifth graders how to say NO to peer pressure through skits. It's a lot of work to organize skits and themselves, but everyone feels that it's worth it.

"After all," commented one member, "even if we only teach one kid to say no to alcohol, that's still one kid I know won't kill anyone by driving drunk."

Melissa Grant and Kate Yarger exchange a worried glance after being offered a beer during the "Sega tournament."

Mrs. Miller and Mr. Herges, as sponsors, are responsible for keeping all the team members organized and informed.

Student Council

As Co-President of Student Council I have learned many things. I've learned that one person can't do it all. It takes everyone working together to get things done. I've learned that a person can't please everyone. That a person can only try his or her best at whatever he or she does. Above all if Mr. Caras says all of the money has been spent, I learned that there is still plenty of money left to be spent.

-Troy Swanson

Even though there were 2 Presidents this year there were still plenty of jobs for each. For Homecoming I helped pick the colors, decorations, the design, and line up the corvettes for the court. For graduation we had a class meeting and decided on the style of invitations, set up committees for colors, flowers, motto, and song. Deciding on the class trip was easy because it's always Great America. The tough part was whether or not to have a fund raiser. It does help having more than 1 President and I enjoyed it very much.

C.H.S. On Top Of The World Survey

This year's yearbook, as you probably have already figured out, is based on the world, so to go along with the theme "C.H.S. On Top Of The World" we asked the students and teachers thier opinions about the environment. These comments are only a few of the creative answers we received.

What kind of things do you do to help the environment?

"I try not to litter, recycle plastic and aluminum at home."

Heather Maynard

"Recycle, walk instead of drive, shut off things when not using them."

Unknown

"The little things that add up- recycle, no aerosol, environmentally friendly products, simple conservation of everything."

Mr. Brown

Funniest-

"Eat roadkill."

Unknown

What do you think is the biggest environmental problem?

"Chemicals being put in our lakes and rivers."

Unknown

"I think that trash is a major problem. I want my kids to play in parks, not garbage dumps."

Anna Richter

"Pollution, our ozone layer getting destroyed."

Unknown

Funniest-

"Roaches."

Unknown

How would you solve environmental problems?

"Plant trees, recycle, car-pool, use solar power."

Unknown

"Shut down all businesses and go back to the frontier way of living."

Amy Jeffries

"Make an underground chamber for toxic wastes."

Unknown

Funniest-

"I would become captain planet."

Duane Mathis

How do you feel about human-carelessness?

"I think it is horrible that people can't take the time to recycle and help save the planet for the future of our children."

Unknown

"It makes me sick to see people not care enough about themselves or the next generation."

Dawn Rapp

"People don't think about the result which will happen in a few years."

Unknown

Funniest-

"What is that."

Unknown

Do we destroy too much?

"Sometimes."

Unknown

"No."

Unknown

"Yes, way to much."

Unknown

Funniest-

"Yesterday I destroyed our bread toaster, but I was really sorry."

Meike Fuhrmann

Do you think we even have an environmental problem?

"We might have a problem but everyone puts too much emphasis on it."

Kate Yarger

"Yes, a huge one."

Unknown

"Definately."

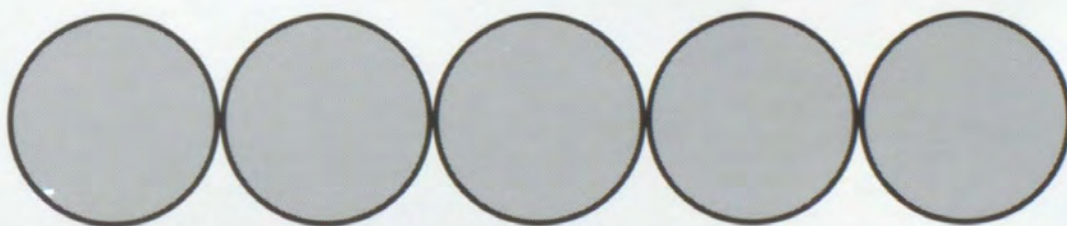

Sara Beam

Funniest-

"Yes, ten miles to the north. (that's our city dump)"

1993 was an incredible year for Viking golf. There were two boys' squads, and one girls' squad. There were golfers from every class-freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior. There was also a wide range of scores. (No one will confess, but it's been heard that the best was a 38 and the worst a 101!)

The boys' squad had an amazing year, winning eleven of their varsity matches. The best part of their record, though, is that very few of the matches were played with exactly the same six guys. Every week brought a new battle to see who would be the varsity. The seniors often found themselves on the course late at night, working on that drive and cursing for letting that underclassman beat them.

The girls' team had only eight members, so competition for spots wasn't a big problem. Unfortunately for other teams, that left the girls plenty of time to practice. The standout on the girls' team was Emily Knox who earned a trip to the state finals. She didn't finish in the top of the field, but Emily is very optimistic. "Going to state as a sophomore is a real accomplishment." It sure is. And like winning, it gives you an incredible feeling- the feeling that you are... on top of the world.

Varsity Volleyball

Jumps Into The Season With a New Coach

Coming into the season with a new coach wasn't an easy thing to do. But this years varsity squad lived through it. Although the records were not the best, the team effort and enthusiasm stayed with them all season long. Varsity records were 0-18 over-all and 0-6 conference. The new coach this year was Mark Skelton. Coach said, "The varsity team was made up of 5 seniors, who provided great leadership and a dedicated work ethic. The 6 juniors on the varsity squad all had a considerable amount of playing time and displayed great enthusiasm throughout the season. Two sophomores were also called upon in certain spots during varsity games and practices-their effort this year will pave the way for a promising squad in '94." Along with Mr. Skeleton there are many players anticipating the '94 season.

POM-PONS

This year was an exciting year for the pom-pom squad. It all started when they attended a UDA camp in July. There the squad competed against squads from all over Illinois and qualified to go to Nationals in Florida. They also received a spirit stick for good spirit each night at camp. They received a final spirit stick the last night of camp and a trophy for qualifying to go to nationals. On February 4, the Pom Squad set off for Orlando, Florida, where they competed with squads from all over the U.S.

This year's squad will go down in history for the first CHS Pom squad to qualify and get a chance to compete in Nationals in Orlando, Florida.

Cheerleaders

This year's Cheerleading Squad, consisting of 12 spirited girls, have improved greatly throughout the season with their spirit and enthusiasm. They went to an I.C.F. camp at Champaign for 4 days and 3 nights of hard work. They competed on the final day of camp and placed 1st in the small varsity division, which gave them the honor of going to Nashville, Tennessee, where they would compete again.

The girls raised their money and were on their way to Nashville, over Christmas break. With their hard work and practice, the nine of them competed and placed 15th out of 48 squads around the nation. These girls are: Coni

Dobbels, Staci Gibson, Stacy Stout, Janel Barman, Erin Brewer, Emily Knox, Jenny Pease, Cori Peterson, and Carrie Ruhnow. But they could have never done all of this without their wonderful Coach and Sponsor, Mrs. Roehrs.

Other than competing, the girls do their best to cheer on, our Viking Football and Basketball teams. The talented and young group of Cheerleaders consisted of 4 Juniors, 7 Sophomores, and 1 Freshman.

As it has for the past three years, Cambridge once again sent their wrestlers to Galva for Co-op wrestling. The school difference doesn't seem to matter to either Cambridge wrestlers or fans. Galva coach Phil Dietch commented that Cambridge fans were the most dedicated he'd ever seen.

As for the wrestlers, well, their records speak for themselves. This season was Galva's most successful in twenty years. The guys did well individually, too. Lonny Maze was awarded the MVP fresh-soph wrestling plaque, beating all other fresh-soph wrestlers-Galva and Cambridge. Senior and captain Kevin Lievens capped his four-year career with a trip to sectionals after winning regionals. After a season like that, everyone should agree that Cambridge wrestlers have the world at their feet.

Tom Folger grimaces and uses all of his muscles as he begins a reversal on his opponent.

Leaders Of The World!

People
73-98

A survey was given to the class of '97. The Viking Staff wanted to know what their best and worst experiences were. What was their favorite memory, what was the most exciting thing that happened to them, and what was definitely NOT a benefit of being a freshmen? We also wanted to know what upper classmen they respected or looked up to. Many of the answers we recieved were anonymous.

What was the worst thing you experienced?-

- * guys
- * coming to school
- * didn't make the basketball team
- * Cowboys won the superbowl
- * Losing people I THOUGHT were my friends

What is the most embarrassing thing that has happened to you?

I woke up late one morning and* was in such a rush that I forgot my bra! I had to call my MOM! How EMBARRASSING!

- * I was ALMOST "depants" in gym!
- * When I fell going up the steps!

What is definitely Not a benefit about being a freshmen?

- * being considered a lowly FRESHMEN
- * always being last in the lunch line
- * having seniors think they are better than you (which they are)

Upper classmen who were looked up to were: (In no special order)

Chad Ruhnow, Sarah Dobbels, Jeanetta Cauwels, Amy Jeffries, Heather Maynard, Chad Humphrey, Brian Cardona, Shea Weyland, Jaime Edmund, Coni Dobbels, Chad Erickson, Kala Franck, Reese Berry, Amy Berry, Shana Palmer, Melanie Schumaker, Staci Stout, Nikki Bowman, Butts, Tracey Vinavich, Troy Swanson, Super Gibby, Ben Pearson, Dean Caras and John Franks.

World Go 'Round!

Sophomore year is a year of transition, a year of change. very often sophomores are stuck in the middle, blending in. They can pick on the freshmen, but the SENIORS let them know that they are still scum.

Fortunately , the class of 1996 has overcome some of these stereotypes. In most of the things they do, they succeed. With tons of will and determination (and caffeine) they have overcome each hurdle. Even with 4 tests the next day, you could still find them cheering their classmates on at sporting events. Sophomores are also given some more responsibility. Many of them have jobs and most of them have their licenses. Many organizations have sophomores as their officers also. In fact, considering how much they do for CHS and the community, one could say that sophomores make the

CLASS OF '95

The 48 juniors of C.H.S., seemed as if they always had something going on! Between all the sports, spending time with their friends and family, hitting the books, practicing, and going out on the week-ends, you would think that the junior class was running around with their heads cut off!!

Either they are psychodelically energized human beings, or they enjoy what they do! Either way, the Junior Class really knows how to keep busy!!!

Not only were the Juniors busy with activities and sports, but kept their minds set on raising some money for one awesome Prom! Selling porkchops at the football games was one of the many fundraisers for the Juniors.

We've asked some Junior's what they've enjoyed most about their Junior year? Micheal Crapnell and Jim Ries said, "I only have one more year left!!"

Erik DeBackre (Bub) added, "Picking on Staci Gibson on our American Lit. trip to Bloomington!" (Thanks Bub)! Blaine Carlson, laughing, said, "Destroying the Industrial Arts building!" Well, to sum it all up, I guess you could say that the Class of '95 can make the world go CRAZY!!!

"Billy Rae Cyrus, because he's a good singer and very good looking."

-Angela Ekin

"I'd like to meet Dorian Yates (a pro body builder) just to see how huge he is in real life. Then I'd have to kick his butt just for the fun of it."

-Justin Boberg

"Kathy Ireland there shouldn't have to be a reason."

-Jeff Vinavich

"I would do anything to meet Eddie Vedder of Pearl Jam. The feeling he conveys in their songs is what makes Pearl Jam's grunge music known around the world."

-Jessie McClain

"Jim Morrison, because, he had a great band and I want to find out if he was stoned when he wrote all his music."

-Matt Moriarity

1993-94 School Board: front- Leonard Boelens, Joy Gradert, Art Ries, back- Chris Robinson, Dave Nelson, Eric Goff, and Steve Brandau.

For the teachers and students the 1993-94 school year was another memorable year here at C.H.S. The students come to school everyday seeing the teachers at work and after a while we just can't think of them as "real people". In this year's year-book you will see pictures of how the teachers spend their spare time. So maybe after seeing the pictures you will see the teachers in a little different way, too.

Foreign Exchange Students

This year we were fortunate to have two foreign exchange students. Meike Fuhrmann, from Germany, joined many clubs, such as FHA, NAHS, and had a part in the musical. Daniel Stratiev, from Bulgaria, preferred to spend time furthering his classroom education.

"Being a foreign exchange student sure is a lot of fun, excitement and a time full of experiences, but it is also very hard sometime and many things happen that it is not easy going through. I want to thank all the people that made this time easier and more enjoyable to me. People who stayed true friends for me through the whole year." -Meike

"I think I'll remember the whole year at Cambridge High School as one pleasant experience, and more importantly I am glad of being part of C.H.S." -Daniel

"Of course, exciting things like wrapping a tree with toilet paper at night, going haunted housing or attending school dances will always stick out, but I will never forget the ordinary school ritual, the musical, and the various sports." -Meike

MRS. ROBINSON RETIRES

Mrs. Joyce Robinson has been teaching for 31 years. She taught at AIC, Davenport for a year, Minaaka High School for 2 years, Cambridge Elementary fifth grade for 6 years, and taught her remaining 22 at Cambridge High School. She went to Northern Illinois University where she majored in Business Education and received a B.S. in Education Degree.

She says she chose to teach because she enjoys working with young people. Changes in the business world brought about by new technology are the biggest changes since she first started teaching.

Finding enough time to teach and still care for her family and home was what she found to be the most difficult about teaching. Spending time with her grandchildren and friends is what she's planning to do now that she's retired.

Mrs. Robinson in 1977!

Mrs. Robinson looks up from grading papers to smile for a picture.

MR. MUNGERSON RETIRES TO PART-TIME

When asked why he chose to teach, Mr. Mungerson answered, "I had decided to pursue something in mathematics. I had enjoyed school and sports and felt teaching was a way to continue to be involved."

He attended college at Western Illinois University where he received a Bachelors degree in mathematics with a minor in science. He also has a master's degree in counseling and guidance. He taught math and general science at Cambridge High School from 1963 to 1970. For the rest of his 31 years of teaching he combined counseling with teaching math.

The technology of calculators, computers, and satellite communication has been the biggest change since he first started teaching. When asked what was the most difficult about teaching, he replied, "To be flexible and realize you are not going to get everything completed."

In the future he says, "I plan to continue to be the guidance counselor part-time for awhile and be involved in selling real estate. I plan on playing more golf, watch lots of sporting events, and learn a few line dances."

Mr. Nordstrom in 1968!

Mr. Nordstrom retired in 1989 after 33 years of teaching, but came back for 5 years to teach part-time. He has decided to retire full-time, so that he can spend more time with his grandchildren, traveling, jogging, playing tennis, playing golf, swimming, biking, skiing, gardening, doing yard work, and doing volunteer work.

CHS is on top of the world. Maybe not geographically, but the students and faculty of the institution do their part to the best of their ability. Putting this volume of the Viking together was a very difficult task. Everyone had to adjust and learn a new program with a new company and a new representative. We pat ourselves on the back for working hard and doing the best we could. Within the covers of this book you will experience again the times we shared. Thank you to all of those that contributed to our creations in Viking Staff. To all of you that supported us through your purchases of the book, THANK YOU! To our photographer Kathy Stromquist, we appreciate your hard work. Thank you to Herff Jones and Steve Hunter for all of the tutoring in computers. Thank you to our cover artist Craig Simpson for his unique talents and work. We would also like to say farewell to our senior staff members Amy L. Jeffries and Kala L. Franck. Their hard work shows for itself within these pages. See you next year!!
