1979 ANNUAL DEDICATED TO PARENTS

The 1979 Viking annual is dedicated to the parents of all the students in CHS. The members of the student body would like to thank their parents for all their support and understanding. Many parents waited supper, transported students to and from practices, and attended many performances throughout the school year. Even though parents were honored at various parents' nights, the Viking Staff feels they deserve more credit. Therefore, this, the 1979 Viking would like to recognize the parents' endurance of the many problems which arise when they have an active teenager in the family.

The 1st month of school brought to life the beginning of another hectic school year. With it came the confusion of the new freshmen, although they weren't the only ones who were confused. With the flurry of changing schedules and finding new classrooms, everyone was flustered. But, somehow everything straightened itself out.

The new tennis courts at College Square Park were kept busy by gym classes and GAA. GAA played football and tennis there every Thursday after school during the month of September.

The first home football game was Friday the 8th. The hectic night began with the Junior class chili supper. In spite of the 90-degree weather, several mothers spent many hours working in the kitchen.

Meanwhile, on the football field, the fresh-soph team was challenging the Orion Chargers. The final score was Cambridge-8, Orion-6. The varsity team stormed out of the locker room to fight a losing battle. Down by 14 in the first half, the team made a comeback, but still lost 14-20.

The Junior Class Play, "Our Miss Brooks," was a play inside of a play. Miss Brooks is a typical English teacher who dreams of getting away from school, at least for the summer. Every year she is in charge of directing the school play. This year she isn't doing it and is glad because she knows now that she won't have to fight over the use of the gym floor with the basketball coach, whom she has special feelings for. The new director of the play can't handle the job so Miss Brooks is told by the principal that she is to take over. It seems that the play will never work out because of all the disasters, and it looks like Miss Brooks has struck out with the coach. But finally Miss Brooks gets everything under control, and the play and the situation with the coach turn out a success.

6. Miss Brooks (Coni Johnson) steals all the basketballs from Coach Longacre (Dave Hewitt) so she can use the gym floor for play practice.

CLASS OF "79" CATCHES SENIORITIS

Senior class officers: Patti Wells, V. President; Shona Matson, President; Karen Nordstrom, Secretary; John Nash, Student Council Rep.; Sue Ogilvie, Treasurer.

The school year comes to an end and the many years of teachers, rulers, pencils, and tests fall behind. As seniors we can see the years of growth and achievement blend together with the tears, hopes, joys, and failures of the past. As we begin our separate lives we are thankful for the many opportunities Cambridge High School has given us and are proud of the achievements we have made individually and collectively.

After the many hours of hard work put into making the 1979 annual, we can only hope that we have accomplished our goal to produce a yearbook which reflects the images of the past year. Although we have included the main events of the school year, there are certain memories which can't be captured in a yearbook. Hopefully, in the years to come, this yearbook will bring to mind these fond memories of the fun and excitement of our high school years.

Karen and Marti

P.S. We would also like to thank Mrs. Decker for all of the help she has given us.
