VIKING HONORS MR. KENNETH NEUMANN

Taking a great delight in reading the latest issue of FIELD AND STREAM, is Kenneth Neumann, a well-read individual on all current affairs.

The students of CHS are grateful in many ways to Mr. Kenneth Neumann. As past president of the Board of Education, he, with the co-operation of other board members, was an enthusiastic and tireless worker for our school several years ago. Although he is officially retired from this organization, he still retains an interest in the activities of the school.

Besides his active interest in school and the students, Mr. Neumann also participates in community affairs. Recently he has been elected Police Magistrate of Cambridge. Through alert and wide reading, he is able to keep abreast of current events on all levels.

Mr. Neumann, for your interest in our school and community, we wish to dedicate our 1960 Viking to you.

OUR LITTLE WORLD OF C. H. S. REVOLVES

"... Yes, we had a canary once," answers Glenna Moore as Lou Gaeta, bird trainer, hands her a falcon during an assembly program.

Our little world of C.H.S. started revolving for another year September 1, 1959. First, the seniors met to organize ideas for initiation, while the usual "green" freshmen walked puzzled down the corridors. On Thursday morning, the freshmen received the instructions about their apparel for the following day. Friday night, after gelatin and lard had been removed, the freshmen presented a splendid show for the upperclassmen, and dancing rounded out the evening's entertainment.

The following Tuesday, juniors were buzzing with excitement. "What size should I get?" "What color?" "I can't make up my mind!" Yes, junior class ring selections were being made. The F.H.A. and F.F.A. joined forces for a Ma, Pa, and Me Night. "Little Lukie" proved the hit of the evening, getting chuckles from a very attentive audience. Friday, September 18, our team played the first game of the football season, winning the honors from Erie. The band made its debut in a flurry of marching. College night held in Orion brought September to a close.

The Great Zero left his mark at C.H.S. on the second day of October. His gallantry was displayed by the band at the Winola football game. Elections were held to determine who were to become Homecoming King and Queen. The secret was well-kept until the crowning of senior candidates, Sharon Mize and Chuck Chapman.

As Otto Schmidt, acrobat, demonstrates the use of the trampoline at a spring assembly, his wife explains the routines he is doing.

THROUGH PARTICIPATION IN SCHOOL LIFE

Girls were seen "primping," for George was here to take identification photos again. The second annual Ridiculous Day Viking Benefit was held at the end of the first six weeks period. Marshall Earp kept law and order in our fair city during that day. The reports to our parents were passed out . . . many pupils felt like "passing out," but vowed to work harder the next six weeks.

The last football game of the '59 season was the "kick-off" for November. The Varsity Squad "can-canned" for joy after this big game, and rousing cheers issued from the locker room. A sock hop sponsored by the Pep Club followed. How the students danced! Even after the Sock Hop there were other parties until the wee hours of the morning!

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors could be seen around the town washing cars, picking up corn, selling bakery goods, and collecting newspapers, for the Viking Carnival was just around the corner. American Education Week was interrupted by Veterans' Day, Career Day in Atkinson for the sophomores and juniors, and freshman IQ tests. To end a busy week, the annual Carnival was held on Saturday. The Beatniks took over the program along with "seven little girls" sittin' in the back-seat with Fred." A hush fell over the crowd as Queen Glenna and King Bud took their thrones to reign over the Carnival for 1959, the second time for the junior class to reign.

The last week of November was filled with many activities. On Tuesday, the twenty-fourth, Mr. Raymon of the Florida Reptile Museum gave us an interesting assembly on reptiles. Sharon Mize was "brave" enough to go up on stage and hold a five-foot Texas bull snake! This assembly was a frightening experience to many girls. The following Wednesday the juniors purchased their coveted Esquire class rings. Our C.H.S. traditional Thanksgiving turkey was served again, but no CRANBERRIES this year!

On Parents' Night, Barbara Drescher, Student Council secretary, pins a red carnation on Mrs. Fred Grider as other Student Council members, Karen Fossum, Sonja Wislander, Gloria Down, and Trudy Munson serve on the welcoming committee.

FHA and FFA members and their parents prepare to enjoy the potluck dinner at the annual Family Night banquet.

December was full of the usual holiday spirit. Gloria Stach and Esther Werbach, our secretaries, decorated the office while the homemaking classes "decked the halls with boughs of holly." Mr. Ayola vigorously rehearsed the choruses and band for our concert. This year the chorus was attired in robes, adding an air of uniformity to the group. The FHA and FFA again caroled at the convalescent home and had a hot dog party afterwards. Snowflakes, mistletoe, angel hair, and glitter all combined to make "Frost Fantasy," given by the Honor Society, a successful Christmas Party. Dave Telleen's intricate star topped our tree. Jim Ole, wearing "glasses," read a "real gone" version of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." The rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

School resumed on January 4 with the Cornbelt Tourney held here at Cambridge. Then "cramming" began for semesters. One girl complained that her head hurt from thinking so hard! It seemed to us that as soon as semesters were over, three weeks tests were already facing us. Half of the school year had passed with more activity-filled days to come, days that would keep our small world turning.

Larry Carlson, Wayne Fickling, and David Telleen helped launch February. These boys were selected by Otto and After receiving a first at district music contest, Kay Peterson, Sharron Arnstedt, and Linda Horberg spent extra practice sessions preparing for state contest.

C. H. S. STUDENTS ENJOY BALANCED YEAR

Dolly Schmidt to help put on a hilarious and skillful acrobatic assembly. At one place in the program, Alvin Thompson, a grade school student, felt as if he were going into orbit when he stood on top of Otto's out-stretched hands!

Friday, February 8 was Parents' Night at our Joy home Basketball game. Red carnations were presented to each mother, and tags saying "I am the father of . . ." were pinned on the Dads. After the game, a Sock Hop was sponsored by the Viking Staff. This was one of the most successful dances this year. Our dancing lessons really helped! Students also showed off their new dance steps at the Valentine Ball. Barbara Grider and Melvin Van Rie were chosen Sweetheart and Heart-throb at the Sweetheart Ball. Pink, silver, and white decorated the gym, and the theme, "Cupid Capers," was carried out. "Snowbound" was the password the second week in February. "TWIRP" season invaded CHS the week of February 15-19, for "The Woman Was Requested to Pay" at the Sadie Hawkin's Dance. Try-outs for the junior class play were held, and members of the "Cloister" Institution were selected. Glenna Moore proved her skill at falconry when the February assembly was given. District Solo and Ensemble Contests were very successful this year with ten firsts in our favor. All during March, the juniors could be heard rehearsing lines for the class play in the halls, between classes, in lunch line, and at noon. Junior and seniors were given scholastic tests to prepare them for college.

"The Curious Savage" proved to be a hilarious and successful play to help sponsor the Prom. The actors and cast members will always remember the fun they had presenting the play. Because of all the snow and bad weather, there was only one day of Easter vacation, Good Friday. Although this weekend turned out very rainy and wet, many Easter bonnets were worn, under the umbrellas!

After state-finals, the winners returned to help put on a colorful, spring concert. "King Neptune" ruled the Hop this year, and "Enchanted Sea" was the theme. A life-size mermaid added a touch of beauty to the decorations, making another original and well-planned hop for new freshmen.

"A Midsummer Night" was the theme used for the Junior Senior Prom. A wishing well, angel hair, and flower garden transformed the gym into a dreamy prom for the dancing couples. Already May, and the year has slipped away. This year Cambridge played host to the Chorus Festival. After Cheerleader and Student Council Elections, May seemed to disappear, leaving only memories, especially for the departing seniors. Now they are prepared to leave "our little world" for a place in a much larger one.

Another customer is satisfied as Tom Swan sells her one of the many bargains offered during the annual Ridiculous Day Sale.

"... We want a touchdown, we want a touchdown ..." Loyal C.H.S. fans brave the weather to cheer the football team on to victory.

OUR WORLD OF ACADEMICS

Academics act as the force of gravity to hold our scholastic world together into one smoothly-running, co-ordinated unit. The Board of Education, which is in charge of forming the policies; the faculty, who present the curriculum; the maintenance workers, who keep the building clean and in repair; and the lunch and transportation staff . . . all synchronize to form this indispensable force. With the combined efforts of the entire administration, it is easy to see why Cambridge High School is at the top of the Cornbelt Conference.

Directing our school system is our superintendent, Mr. Albert Smith. Although he has a difficult position to fill, Mr. Smith does a creditable job of keeping our school running efficiently. Mr. Smith not only attends all school affairs, but he is also active in many phases of community life. His pleasing personality and eagerness to serve school and community interests have won him many friends. Assisting Mr. Smith in the office are two capable secretaries, Mrs. Esther Werbach and Miss Gloria Stach. Since both secretaries are graduates of C.H.S., they truly understand the many problems that arise from day to day. Mrs. Werbach and Miss Stach enjoy what they do because they like working with and helping young people.

In order to keep us informed of daily happenings, Mr. Smith starts each day with the morning announcements.

OFFICE IS CENTER OF OUR SMALL WORLD

Signing up for the bus to a basketball game, Judy Nelson buys her ticket from Mrs. Werbach.

Running off letters and announcements is one of the many duties Gloria Stach, school secretary, performs each day.

Parental interest is shown in and put to use through our local P.T.A. Working hand in hand with our C.H.S. teachers and school board, the P.T.A. promotes several worthwhile projects to better our school. The P.T.A.'s interest in higher education is shown by the gift of a scholarship to one deserving senior who is interested in teaching. During the school term our P.T.A. promotes several projects to help needy families throughout the community. Also the concession stands at football and basketball games are under the supervision of the P.T.A.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Maynard, the P.T.A. officers, Robert Parkinson, Mrs. Winlow Anderson, Mrs. Tom Maynard, and K. L. Telleen, discuss forthcoming events.

COMMUNITY INTEREST INFLUENCES STUDENTS

The Board of Education plays an important role in our school. Discussing one of the many school problems are the Board members, Glenn Lindbeck, Superintendent Smith, Ralph Nelson, Robert Arndt, Dr. William Munson, Robert Rishel, Leslie Fickling, and Jack Sherrard.

We at C.H.S. are convinced that our Board of Education is one of the best in our conference. The present Board of Education consists of Leslie Fickling, retiring president, Robert Rishel, secretary, Ralph Nelson, senior member, together with Robert Arndt, Jack Sherrard, Glenn Lindbeck and Dr. William Munson. Planning to keep the Cambridge school system running smoothly keeps these men continually busy. Our students and community can be proud of their accomplishments within our unit. —

Miss Westerlund is a graduate of the University of Illinois, with a B.A. degree. She says that she chose to teach English because she herself enjoys reading and writing. Besides teaching four English classes, Miss Westerlund is sponsor of the yearbook and the student column, Maroon and White, in the local newspaper. In this capacity, she has many opportunities to watch students grow in the understanding and appreciation of good writing.

LITERARY APPRECIATION STRESSED AT C. H. S.

The English IV class listens as Miss Westerlund explains one of the more difficult phases of grammar.

Freshmen attentively study the corrections in their journals in which they make daily entries.

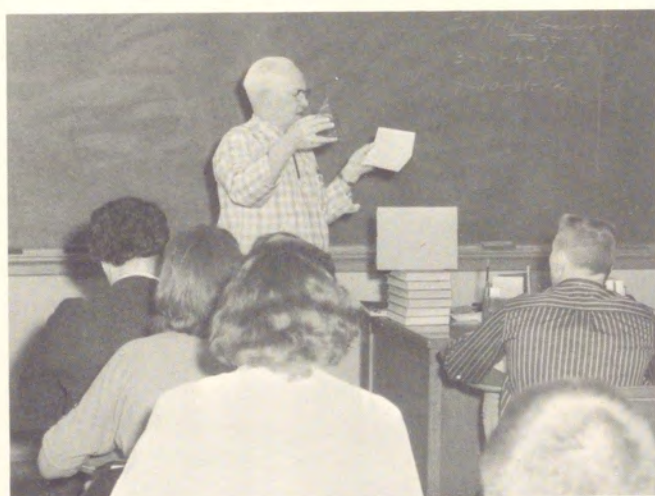

Mr. Raymond Johnson, a graduate of Monmouth College with a B.S. degree, teaches plane geometry, advanced math, and two algebra classes. In addition, he is the school attendance officer. Mr. Johnson enjoys teaching mathematics, for he feels that math is the subject in which he is best qualified. He likes helping students to mature into responsible adults. Mr. Johnson is a sports enthusiast and loves to play golf.

The use of a new piece of math equipment is explained by Mr. Johnson to his advanced math class.

MATH DEPARTMENT ACQUIRES NEW EQUIPMENT

Mr. Johnson explains the diagram of a polyhedron as the Solid Geometry students undertake the writing of a three-weeks test.

"For tomorrow," announces Mr. Johnson as he makes the assignment for the following day.

MUSIC SKILLS DEVELOPED AND DISPLAYED

Mr. Edward Ayola, a new member of our faculty this year, received his B.M.E. degree from the University of Tulsa. As head of the music department, he has an important position in our little world. His answer to our query, "Why did you choose to teach music?" is as follows: "I enjoy music because of the inspiration I receive from it." Unlike the popular conception of a music teacher, Mr. Ayola likes athletics, basketball especially.

Inspecting the new kettle drums is Mr. Ayola, who makes sure all of the instruments are in top condition.

The band is poised, ready for action, as Mr. Ayola gives the down beat.

As the chorus festival nears, the girls' chorus starts work on a difficult piece.

STUDENTS TAUGHT TO UTILIZE SKILLS

Mrs. Inez Kenward, who received her B.A. degree from the University of Illinois, teaches English, World History, and Speech. In addition, she is school librarian, instructor in dramatics, and sponsor of the F.T.A., Library Club, and Student Council. Mrs. Kenward states that she receives tremendous personal satisfaction through the sharing of her own enthusiasm for fine literature, skillful writing, and the discipline imposed by explicit composition. She finds that the students who respond and who appreciate their instructor's purpose make her efforts worthwhile.

Mrs. Kenward arrives early each morning to make final preparations for the coming day.

"World History is important in understanding today's situations," states Mrs. Kenward as she instructs her sophomore class.

In a rousing debate, John Gustafson convinces the class that Congress should have control over the Supreme Court.

Miss Barbara Maras teaches business subjects in our school. Teaching students to learn and to use basic skills such as typing, shorthand, and the use of office machines, she enjoys working with the high school age group. She feels that her subject is interesting and at times even amusing. To see one of her business graduates hold and succeed in office jobs in our town or elsewhere gives her a feeling of satisfaction. Miss Maras received her B. Ed. degree from Illinois State Normal University.

The first duty of Miss Maras each day is to check attendance in her first hour study hall.

FUTURE JOBS STEM FROM COMMERCIAL COURSES

Learning the "why's and wherefore's" of typing is not as simple as the freshmen had believed.

Shorthand students transcribe as Miss Maras checks daily assignments.

Mr. Kennet Atkinson, a graduate of Illinois State Normal University, teaches U.S. History, Modern Problems, and Bookkeeping. It is Mr. Atkinson's contention that from social studies, students will learn to profit by the experiences of other generations. He believes that by studying economics one can accurately predict trends in our country's financial status. With this in mind, we can see why Mr. Atkinson feels that social studies courses are necessary in our curriculum.

Instructing Judy Nelson on outlining a chapter in her history book is Mr. Atkinson, our U.S. History teacher.

SOCIAL STUDIES NECESSARY IN CURRICULUM

A discussion on grades is in process by Modern Problems students, Don Wells, Sharron Mize, and Mr. Atkinson, their teacher.

Modern Problems students listen as Mr. Atkinson lectures on a current topic.

ENGLISH STIMULATES IMAGINATION

Students watch as Mr. Shutt pin points an important landmark of World History.

Mr. Shutt explains the meaning of words such as "disarmament" to his World History students.

Explaining the punctuation of an inside address, Mr. Shutt teaches Business English, a new course in our curriculum.

As adviser of the Viking Carnival each winter, Mr. Philip Shutt spends many hours with the benefit chairman planning and carrying out ideas for the project, to make it a success. Another of his tasks is sponsor of the Projection Club. Mr. Shutt's chief work is teaching English and history. He enjoys teaching English because he says it "stimulates his imagination." As for the reason he likes history, it is his belief that this subject "provides an opportunity to reveal the continuity of historical events as they determine the future of our present-day civilization." Mr. Shutt received his, A.B. degree from Iowa State Teachers' College. He is taking advanced work at the University of Illinois and hopes to obtain his Master's degree in Education next summer.

SHOP CLASSES ENCOURAGE CO-OPERATION

The use of the metal crimper is explained to shop student Bill Lange by Mr. Brown.

Members of the Shop II class, Gary Munson, Jim Peterson, and Bob Gault, put the finishing touches on a muffler they have constructed.

The industrial arts classes at C.H.S. are taught by Mr. Harold Brown, who also teaches physical education at the grade school. As coach of all grade school athletics, he prepares his students for high school athletics. Mr. Brown enjoys a good laugh and a joke with fellow-teachers and students during his leisure time. He likes being around, working-with, and developing high school students into better individuals. A graduate of Illinois State Normal University he has a B.S. degree.

Mr. Brown explains the construction of an arrow container to John Finnicum.

Wayne Weyland fills out application papers for his Home and Beautification award.

AG TEACHES ELECTRICAL WIRING

Mr. Allan Utech received his B.S. degree in Agriculture and a M. Ed. degree from the University of Illinois. He teaches Vocational Agriculture, a course especially important in our rural community. Vocational Agriculture consists of the fundamentals of plumbing, wiring, painting, repairing machinery, and animal husbandry. To him, agriculture is challenging as well as interesting. Mr. Utech is F.F.A. sponsor. He keeps a watchful eye over his students and helps them in every possible way. The fact that he enjoys fishing in his leisure time explains his whereabouts on many summer evenings. Mr. Utech this year conducted evening farm-law classes which were popular with the local farmers. Along with Mr. Utech's other activities, he is assistant Henry County Fair Manager for 1960.

The use of the new parts-washer is explained to Steve Johnson and Donald Moore by Mr. Utech.

As Miss Kraus explains the proper way to set a table, members of the Family Living class listen intently.

FAMILY LIVING: NEW COURSE

This is the second year of teaching for Miss Bernice Kraus. She teaches Home Economics in our school and has added a new Family Living class to her three classes from last year. She feels that Family Living prepares high school students for their most important vocation in life, marriage and the responsibilities of homemaking. Also Miss Kraus is F.H.A. adviser. She spends most of her leisure time checking home projects or preparing assignments for class. This teacher is a graduate of Northern Illinois University with a B.S. degree in Education.

Among her many duties, Miss Kraus also plans and displays effective bulletin boards.

Listening attentively as Mrs. Jonson dictates, Latin II students, Glenna Moore and Burl Moody, prepare to translate sentences.

Mrs. Jonson watches members of the freshman Latin class as they complete their first semester final.

TWO-YEAR LATIN COURSES NOW OFFERED

Mrs. Tyra Jonson teaches two Latin classes. Latin is a recent addition to our course of study. For those who are dubious concerning the real values of Latin, Mrs. Jonson has convincing arguments. Teaching eager students is a challenge to Mrs. Jonson. "Having a class respond to my efforts gives me real enjoyment," she says. Outside of school, this teacher is busy as a pastor's wife. Her alma mater is Gustavus Adolphus College, where she received her B.A. degree.

"Caesar magnis nocturnis diurnisque . . ." Mrs. Jonson aids Latin II students by translating a difficult passage.

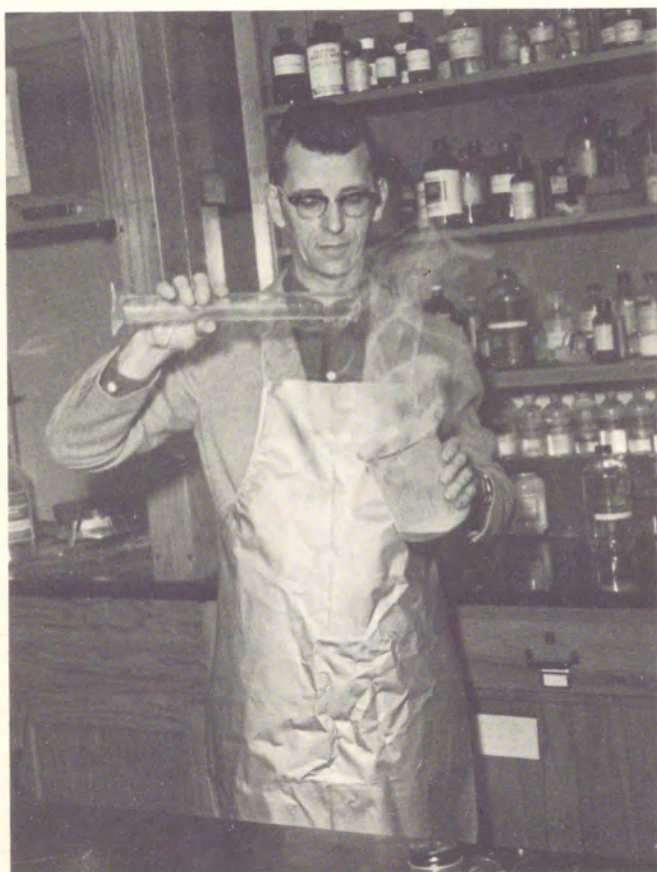

We live in an age of science, and our school world must keep pace. We students of C.H.S. receive much assistance from Mr. Norman Place, who helps us to understand this field. Each day he spends many hours in and out of school preparing the best lessons for us to study. He teaches four science courses: general science, biology, physics, and chemistry. Mr. Place likes working with young people and instructing them in the field which is so important in the careers of today's world. Mr. Place received his B.S. degree from Western Illinois University and has one year's graduate work at the State University of Iowa.

Barbara Drescher "holds her breath" as she awaits the results of her chemistry experiment.

SCIENCE INFLUENCES TODAY'S CAREERS

A tedious experiment is attempted by Tom Swan, as Chuck Chapman and John Edmund observe.

Demonstrating a risky experiment, Mr. Place shows chemistry students the proper safety precautions.

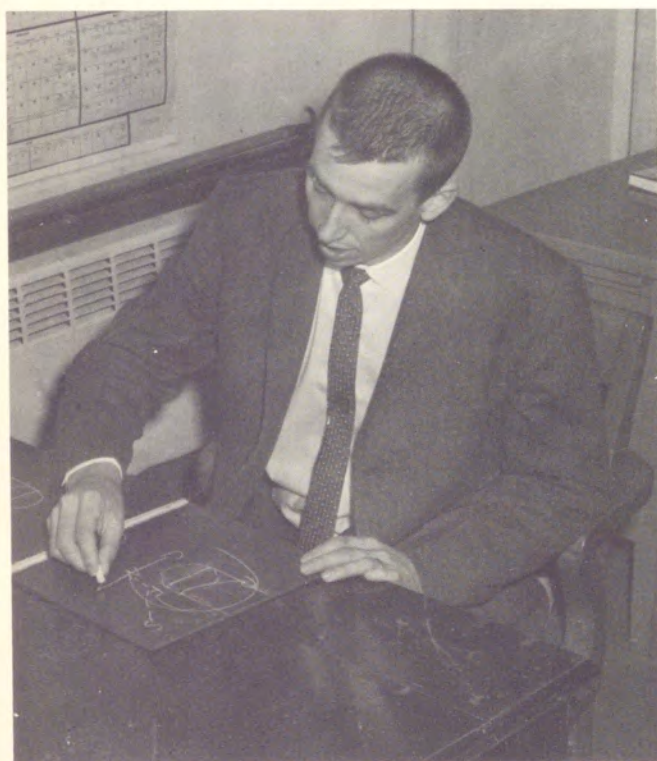

The athletic director at C.H.S. is Mr. Kennet Atkinson, who instructs two boys' physical education classes and coaches our football, baseball, and track teams. An athlete himself, Coach has played professional baseball. Calisthenics is one of his favorite forms of exercise. Mr. Atkinson likes to keep his boys in good condition by putting them through sessions of strenuous workout.

While discussing ideas for new routines in the Gym Show, Tom Anderson and Mr. Atkinson watch the Fresh-Soph P.E. class work out on the parallel bars.

COACHES EMPHASIZE PHYSICAL FITNESS

Mr. Dean Youngberg is our varsity basketball coach. His other duties include teaching one of the sixth grades. Mr. Youngberg likes to teach because he enjoys watching and helping young people grow into young ladies and gentlemen. Likewise, he enjoys working and developing his students and being around them. Coach Youngberg emphasizes the need for physical fitness and good sportsmanship both for his players and himself. Mr. Youngberg is a graduate of Western Illinois University with a B.S. degree.

Preparing a new play is one of the many tasks of Dean Youngberg, our varsity basketball coach.

Mrs. June Fitzpatrick teaches girls' physical education and health classes in both high and grade schools and sponsors the G.A.A. She enjoys working with girls and tries to teach her students new sports as well as physical fitness. Occasionally, Mrs. Fitzpatrick combines the boys' and girls' P.E. classes for a dancing class. Mrs. Fitzpatrick enjoys helping girls receive the benefit and satisfaction that competitive sports, rhythmic activities, and other physical activities can give. Likewise, she hopes that each girl will develop an interest in at least one activity that will be carried over into adult life and remain active through the years. With a B.S. degree in Education, Mrs. Fitzpatrick is a graduate of Western Illinois State University.

P. E. STRIVES TO DEVELOP LASTING INTERESTS

Freshman girls confer with their coaches, Kent Burns and Danny Humphrey, during the girls' basketball tournament.

"Ball in play!" commands the shrill whistle as Mrs. Fitzpatrick hands the ball to Lynda Reppert.

EVERY C. H. S. STUDENT ASSISTED

The map of an automobile trip planned by one of the freshman Driver Training students is checked by Mr. Smith.

Our superintendent, Mr. Albert Smith, teaches the freshman course in Driver's Education. His most rewarding experience is seeing young people mature and leave high school well equipped for future careers. Athletics also play an important part in Mr. Smith's life, for he was once a coach at C.H.S. Always willing to help a student with his problems, Mr. Smith is a fine leader for youth. Mr. Smith obtained his B.S. degree from Northern Illinois State Teachers' College and his Master's degree at Colorado State College.

Our capable nurse, Mrs. Loretta Schumaker, shuttles back and forth between the grade and high schools each day to give students assistance when they become sick or injured. This schedule is a full one, and Mrs. Schumaker definitely keeps busy. One of her duties is to test our eyes and ears each year. Also this year Mrs. Schumaker taught a Red Cross Civil Defense course to the high school Family Living class. Mrs. Schumaker is a graduate of the Lutheran Hospital Training School in Sioux City, Iowa.

Part of Mrs. Schumaker's duties as school nurse is to check the eyesight of all pupils.

IN ALL ASPECTS OF SCHOOL LIFE

Performing some of their many duties are our cooks, Mrs. Sarah Neumann, Mrs. Jenny Cousins, Mrs. Rose Echelberger, Mrs. Ingeborg Leander, Mrs. Dorothy Tucker.

Martin Nelson, Leo Faulkner, and their assistant, Mrs. Frank Cousins, are the custodians of our high school. Each of these people does his part to keep the classrooms clean, the floors waxed, and the windows shining. All year, they spend many hours of tiring work on our school in an effort to keep it top-notch.

Getting ready to take the students home are Duane Tomlinson, Joubert Skalberg, Perry Leander, Lester Gustafson, Everett Palmer, Ralph Young, Lavern Peterson, Merton Becker, and Clarence Humphrey. Absent from the picture is Milton Crapnell.

In our modern kitchen, the cooks keep busy preparing well-balanced meals for the students of C.H.S. The cafeteria is one place where there is no tardiness. The Thanksgiving and Christmas meals especially appeal to all of us. Our capable cooks, Mrs. Dorothy Tucker, Mrs. Rose Echelberger, Mrs. Sarah Neumann, Mrs. Frank Cousins, and Mrs. Vernie Leander, serve both the junior high and high school students.

Keeping our small world neat and clean are our two able custodians, Leo Faulkner and Martin Nelson.

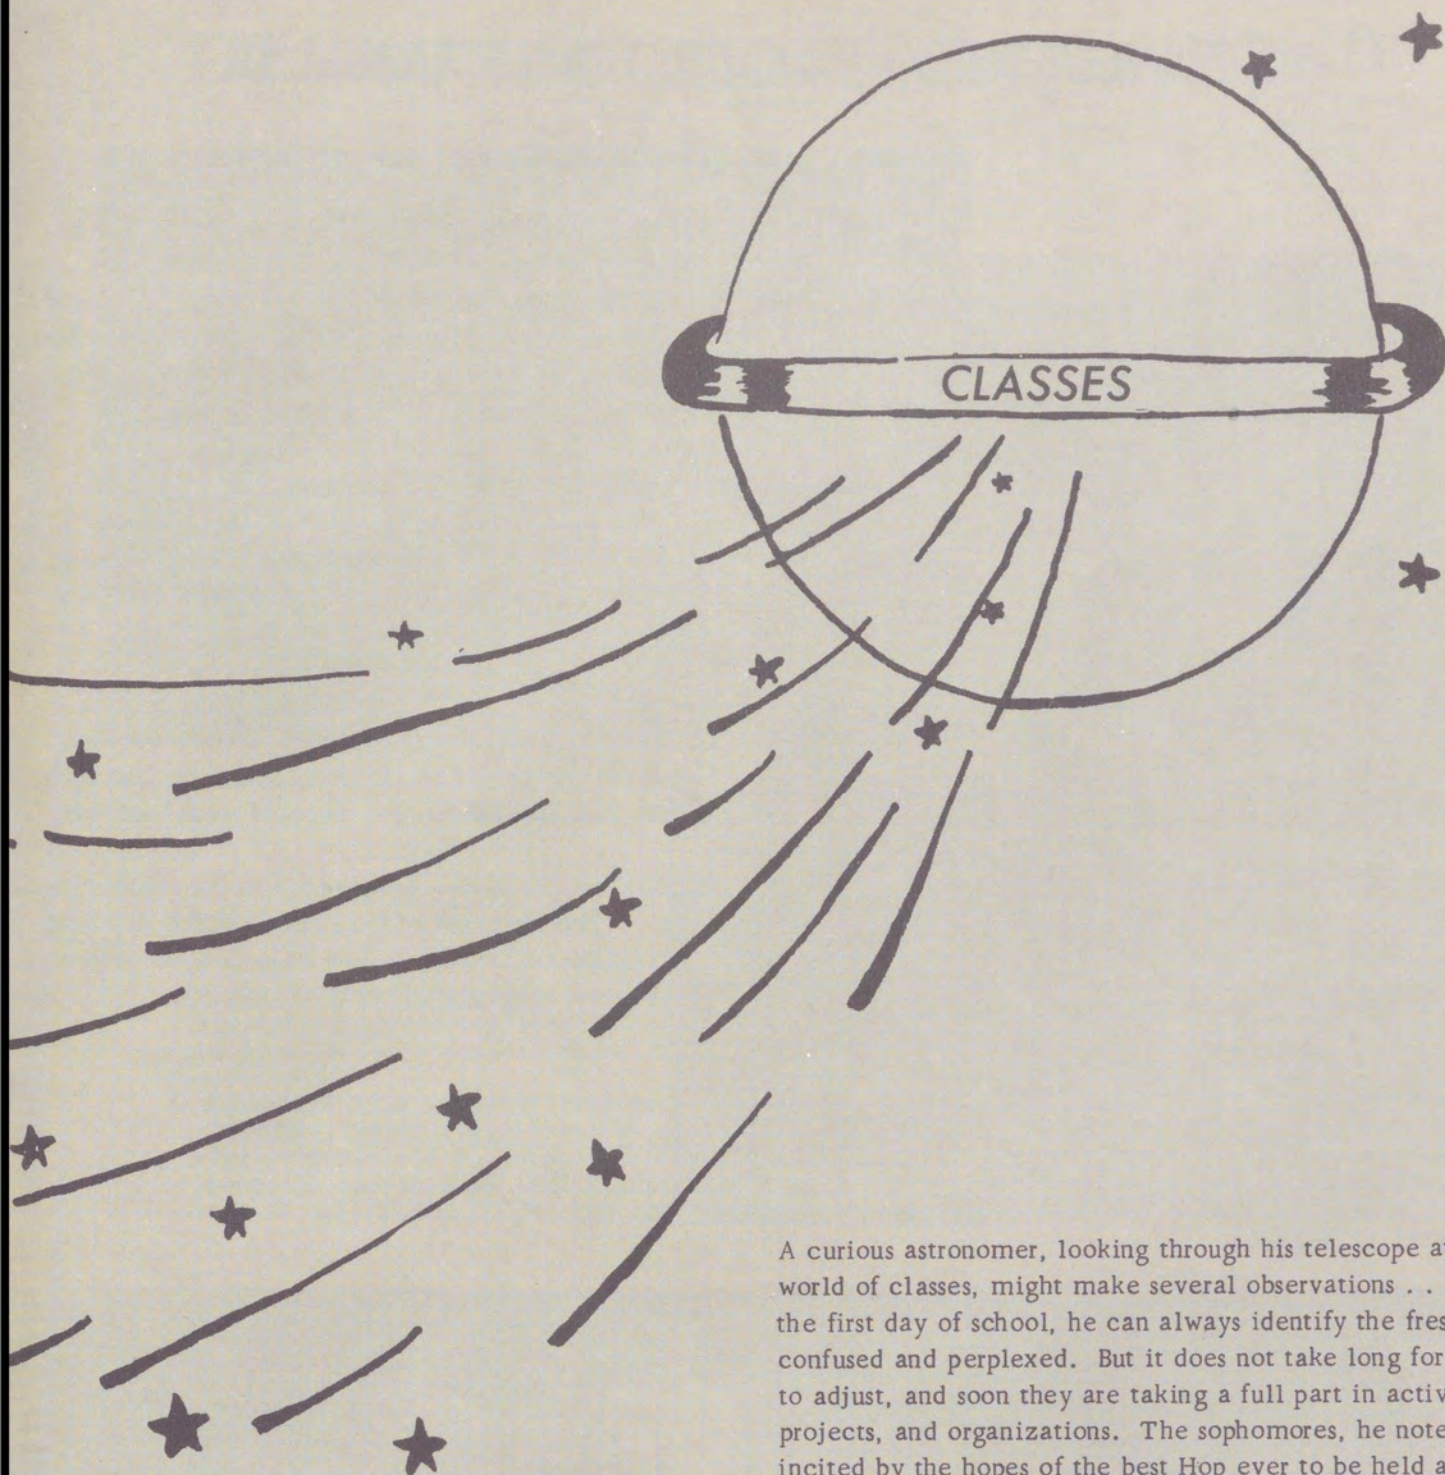

Transportation to and from school, trips to district contests, and athletic events which our students attend during the school year are efficiently handled by our qualified bus drivers, LaVern Peterson, Everett Palmer, Merton Becker, Duane Tomlinson, Clarence Humphrey, Lester Gustafson, Joubert Skallberg, Ralph Young, Perry Leander, and Milton Crapnell. These drivers have often proved that they are capable of handling all types of road conditions, thus insuring the safety of all bus travelers.

OUR WORLD OF CLASSES

A curious astronomer, looking through his telescope at our world of classes, might make several observations . . . On the first day of school, he can always identify the freshmen--confused and perplexed. But it does not take long for them to adjust, and soon they are taking a full part in activities, projects, and organizations. The sophomores, he notes, incited by the hopes of the best Hop ever to be held at Cambridge High School, release an uncanny amount of energy, checking casts and sponsoring bake sales. Our astronomer watches with interest the juniors, who are engrossed in trying to choose a proper theme for the Prom, and, most important of all, to keep it secret. The same scientist last watches the seniors, who are studying hard to make this last year at high school count as much as possible and are waiting with mixed emotions for graduation.

BEWILDERED, EAGER TO LEARN

Driving training instructor, Mr. Smith, demonstrates the mechanics of an engine to curious freshmen, Brenda Scoville and George DeMay.

Although our world at C.H.S. seemed strange to the freshmen during their first few days of school, it wasn't long before they became an important part of the social world. Initiation was an unforgettable day for them. In the way of being different, the "slaves" produced a show for fellow students at C.H.S.

Lynda Reppert and Dick Anderson were freshman attendants at Homecoming. In the battle for the Carnival victory, the freshmen worked long hours to try to make sure that Mary Ann Gustafson and Danny Humphrey would be king and queen.

In the sports world, the freshmen also showed their ability. Not only were their boys on the team, but all three "B" team cheerleaders, Mary Ann Gustafson, Lynda Reppert, and Marilyn Johnson, were freshmen.

Several freshmen also participated in the musical world. The big event of their year was the Hop held in their honor. This class now looks forward to three more years in "our small world."

Freshman Class: FIRST ROW: Miss Kraus, S. Way, P. Willems, M. Gustafson, V. Mardock, D. Verscheure, J. Dobbels, M. Johnson, T. Munson, L. Reppert, G. Nimrick, G. Nimrick, B. Scoville, B. Gillespie. SECOND ROW: A. Horberg, A. Moore, L. Charlet, D. Bloom, D. Carlson, D. Humphrey, L. Weinrich, F. Boelens, D. Gustafson, D. Anderson, A. Buskirk. THIRD ROW: Mr. Utech, B. Moore, B. Poppleton, J. Otto, W. Gustafson, R. Nobel, L. Vincent, D. Nimrick, R. Anderson, G. DeMay. FOURTH ROW: D. Halcomb, K. Burns, S. Bloom, K. Martin, L. Schumaker, D. Palmer.

FRESHMEN ENTER "OUR SMALL WORLD"

FFA members Don Moore and Jim Dobbels read their part in the initiation ceremony as the "Greenhands" listen attentively.

On Initiation Day, the freshman boys attempt to study, amid giggles and stares from the rest of the students in study hall.

Freshman Class Officers:
Dick Anderson, president;
Trudy Munson, student council
rep.; Dave Bloom, sec'y-treas.;
Mike Anderson, vice-president.

SOPHOMORE YEAR IS HIGHLIGHTED

As usual, the sophomores found that the second year in high school is more exciting than the first. Accustomed to our school schedules, the sophs were able to take a more active part in school life.

Some of the main line-up on the "B" basketball team were sophomores. Although they had no representative on the frosh-soph cheering squad, Barbara Grider served as a varsity cheerleader. Barbara was also chosen Sweetheart for 1960 at the FFA-FHA Sweetheart-Hearthrob Ball.

At Homecoming, Barbara Grider and John Finnicum served their class as attendants. Their Carnival candidates were Mazine DeKezel and Burl Moody.

All year, the sophomores looked forward to planning and setting up the Hop. "The Enchanted Sea," a nautical theme, was an accomplishment the sophs can well be proud of.

Establishing the surroundings for this life-size mermaid is just one of the many duties of these sophomore boys as they prepare for the big event, Hop.

BY PRESENTATION OF COLORFUL HOP

Patiently waiting their turn in the lunch line are sophomores, Eugene Stromquist, Steve Johnson, John Finnicum, and Penny Campbell.

Janice Stackhouse and Don Moore check the list of probationary members to see how many of their classmates were admitted to the Honor Society.

BUSTLING, PURPOSEFUL JUNIORS ACQUIRE

Perhaps the busiest year is the junior year. Besides the many regular activities, the juniors encounter a few "extras" too. They had representatives on the Varsity team and a cheerleader on the Varsity squad, Gloria Down.

Showing their determination to win, this class worked hard at picking up corn and doing jobs to win the Carnival crowns for Glenna Moore and Bud Veal. In October, Pam Wells and Ward Robinson were Homecoming attendants. The juniors finally became proud owners of class rings and went on to produce their play, "The Curious Savage," to help finance the prom, the highlight of their year. The theme, "A Midsummer Night," was carried out by a wishing well and "heavenly" music.

With the completion of a busy year, the juniors are suddenly realizing that they have only one year remaining in their world of CHS.

Junior Class Officers: Allen Wiley, vice-president; Sonja Wislander, student council representative; Nancy Stiner, secretary-treasurer; Lyle Neumann, president.

One of the many Prom committees checks a current magazine for some new and different ideas.

In the spring, the junior class was kept quite busy with their play, "The Curious Savage," and many other activities.

One of the many C.H.S. debates is in full swing as Lynda Reppert, Glenna Moore, Ward Robinson, John Edmund, and Tom Anderson struggle over a familiar problem.

SENIORS PLAN FUTURE WITH HIGH

On a sunny day, one can always find students relaxing on the lawn during their noon-hour.

HOPES AS THEY LEAVE "OUR SMALL WORLD"

The class of '60 were kept busy all year long enjoying every activity. In the musical world, the seniors played a vital part. Many who won firsts at the state music contest were the girls' vocal trio, the mixed single ensemble, two vocal solos, and the flute trio. And what would the music department have done without the senior accompanist, Kay Peterson?

The seniors took a leading part in sports with many boys on both the football and basketball teams. Mari Maynard and Joan Finnicum served as senior representatives on the varsity cheering squad.

Several seniors had high scholastic records. Emily Cederberg won the D.A.R. award. David Telleen is a National Merit Scholar and also was a runner-up in the N.C.T.E. Contest.

Homecoming found seniors, Chuck Chapman and Sharon Mize, crowned king and queen. Senior attendants were Carol Johnson and Larry Johnson. Although the seniors tried hard to win, their Carnival candidates, Bev Moody and Jim Ole, took second place in the race.

The last few weeks were filled with events which now remain as fond memories. The prom, baccalaureate services, class night, class trip, and Commencement were over all too soon.

Senior Class: FIRST ROW: Mr. Atkinson, B. Drescher, C. Way, S. Stach, L. Horberg, S. Mize, C. Moriarity, K. Opalka, C. Johnson, S. Thompson, A. Kneuppel, C. Scovil, K. Peterson, M. Maynard, B. THIRD ROW: B. Howell, S. Arnstedt, K. Fossum, B. Moody, B. Carlson, G. Munson, C. Chapman, T. Swan, L. Schnowske, L. Johnson, N. Johnson, K. German. FOURTH ROW: D. Moody, J. Ole, J. Peterson, D. Telleen, J. Gustafson, W. Fickling, D. Hutchinson, D. Burns, J. Gault, D. Downing.

John Gustafson, a member of the Class of '60, receives his graduation announcements from Mr. Olson at the Cambridge Chronicle.

OUR WORLD OF ORGANIZATIONS

Prominent in the day of almost every student, according to his various preferences, is our world of organizations. It includes such choice components as journalism, agriculture, home-making, teaching, photography, books, music, academics, and student government. Five days a week, often on weekends, and sometimes during vacation, a good share of each student's time is devoted to his selected club.

The various satellites of this hemisphere present enough opportunities to satisfy most interests. They are an integral part of Cambridge High School.

THROUGH DEADLINES, COPY, PICTURES,

Discussing a layout for an annual page are editors, Pam Wells and Dave Hutchinson, as Sonja Wislander types another page.

Responsible for publishing the school annual, the Viking Staff has one of the most important jobs in the school.

Arranging the layout is the first step in editing a yearbook. This task is done by the editor and his assistant. Next, the photographers are set to work taking, developing, and printing the pictures. While all this activity is going on, writers frantically rack their brains trying to figure out something new to say about the various subjects. Then come the final steps of typing the copy and checking the proofs before they are sent to the publisher.

Financing the yearbook is hard work, too. The chief source of revenue is the annual carnival. In addition to the carnival, the staff sponsors both a work day and a Ridiculous Day Sale, in which the town merchants offer their merchandise for ridiculous prices.

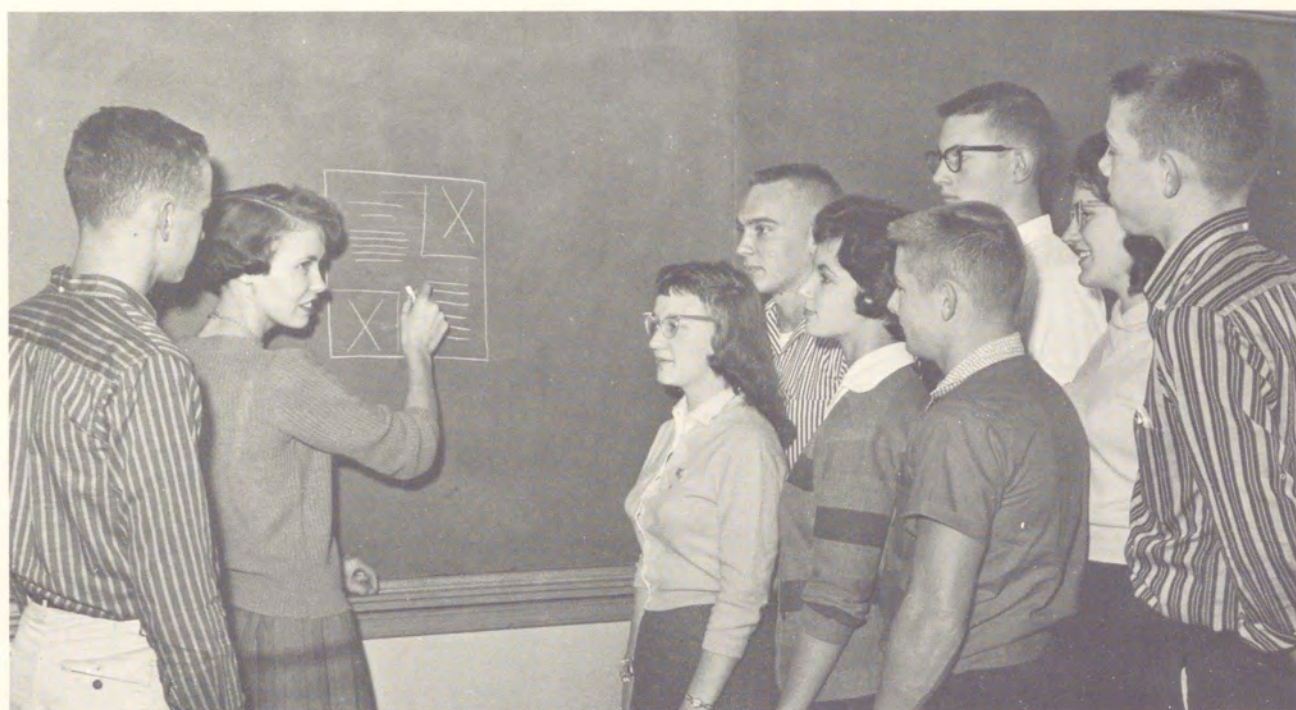

Near the end of the summer, the members of the staff, after spending nine months of hard work in an attempt to receive the highest award for the annual, anxiously await delivery of their book, the Viking.

While N. Stiner, E. Cederberg, G. Down, J. Gault, B. Gault, and L. Neumann look on, Dennis Burns shows Judy Nelson how to operate one of the Viking Staff's cameras.

THE VIKING STAFF STRIVES FOR NEW GOALS

The lay-out of an annual page is being shown to writers R. Nelson, M. Maynard, G. Moore, R. Naslund, C. Chapman, J. Gustafson, S. Arnstedt, and M. Lunde by S. Wislander.

As the time approaches to choose the probationary Honor Society members, officers Dave Hutchinson, president; Dave Telleen, vice-president; Jim Ole, secretary; and Emily Cederberg, treasurer, look over the list of possible candidates.

To become a member of this select organization, the Honor Society, a student must have a scholastic average of 88% or higher. This average is compiled from the student's first four semesters grades. He is then graded by the teachers on his qualities of character, leadership, and service.

Sponsored by Mr. Smith, the Honor Society's annual project is the all-school Christmas Party

HONOR SOCIETY PROMOTES SCHOLARSHIP

Honor Society members: FIRST ROW: R. Calysn, D. Burns, P. Wells, Mr. Smith, K. Peterson, S. Wislander, E. Cederberg. SECOND ROW: M. Maynard, R. Naslund, T. Anderson, B. Moody, L. Neumann, L. Carlson, D. Hutchinson, D. Telleen, G. Down, M. Mariman, THIRD ROW: B. Drescher, T. Swan, S. Amstedt, J. Gustafson, K. Fossum, J. Ole, C. Ludington.

The Student Council officers, Bob Naslund, representative-at-large; Tom Anderson, vice-president; Bev Moody, president; Barb Drescher, secretary; Gloria Down, representative-at-large, admire the C.H.S. pennants before planning the campaign to sell them.

As the backbone of the student body at C.H.S., our Student Council, sponsored by Mrs. Kenward, discusses the various school problems and solves those under their jurisdiction. Made up of the officers, two representatives-at-large, and two delegates from each class, the Student Council is a representative organization.

In addition to leading the student body the Student Council sponsors various activities such as a clothing drive, Homecoming, Parents' Night, and Spring Work Day. Last year, the Council replaced one of the pennants in the gymnasium.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS OF INTEREST TO COUNCIL

Student Council members: L. Neumann, J. Stackhouse, V. Grant, R. Anderson, Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Kenward, S. Wislander, T. Munson, G. Down, B. Moody, STANDING: B. Drescher, B. Moody, T. Anderson, and R. Naslund.

Looking over the newly acquired athletic quotations are Varsity Club officers Bob Naslund, V. President; Larry Johnson, President; Dennis Downing, Secretary-Treasurer; and Coach Atkinson, Sponsor.

The highest honor for a C.H.S. athlete is to be a member of the Varsity Club. To become a member of this group, the athlete must win a major letter in one of the sports. He must also keep up his scholastic average and has to be approved by two-thirds of the club's members. The duty of the Varsity Club is to make sure that the Cambridge athletic teams excel in sportsmanship.

AIM: TO EXCEL IN SPORTSMANSHIP

VI-KADETS AROUSE SCHOOL SPIRIT

Pep Club Officers: Beverly Moody, Secretary; Janice Stackhouse, treasurer; Crystal Ludington, vice-president; Linda Horberg, president; Mr. Atkinson, sponsor.

After changing their name from Vikettes to Vi-Kadets, the Pep Club this year was opened to the boys. Larger in membership than any other club in the school, the Pep Club has many supporters who see that there is a spectator bus for every out-of-town game. With their cheers, they add a spirit of good will and good sportsmanship to every game. A project of the Pep Club, sponsored by Mr. Atkinson, was the completion of vests worn by the girls of our cheering section throughout the year.

Boys' Chorus

Although the boys' chorus is small in number, they are an enthusiastic and popular group of singers. One of three choruses, they perform in the annual winter and spring concerts. This year, boys' chorus did not compete in chorus contest in order to allow the mixed chorus more time for practice.

Members of the boys' chorus also formed smaller groups in which they displayed their musical talents. Two were members of a mixed single ensemble while other boys formed an octet. Both of these groups went to contest.

Girls' Chorus

By combining the freshman-sophomore, the junior-senior girls' choruses, Mr. Ayola's final product is a large and melodious organization, which performs in the winter and spring concerts. Although girls' chorus merits praise they also did not attend chorus contests so that extra practice time could be given to mixed chorus.

One of the highlights of our musical world is the annual chorus festival, this year held at Cambridge. Members of the girls' chorus kept busy acting as hostesses at the festival.

Mardock, M. Gustafson, B. Gillespie, K. Peterson, L. Horberg, S. Armstedt. THIRD ROW: B. Scoville, M. Johnson, J. Dobbels, V. Lindquist, N. Johnson, R. Calsyn, E. Stromquist, J. Gustafson, C. Johnson, G. Hutchinson, B. Moody, D. Bloom, J. Ole, D. Moore, D. Gustafson. FOURTH ROW: B. Moody, L. Neumann, B. Lange, C. Chapman, T. Anderson, B. Drescher, B. Moore, A. Horberg, L. Weinrich, F. Boelens, S. Bloom, D. Carlson, M. Anderson, J. Finnicum, J. Peterson, D. Telleen, D. Moody. FIFTH ROW: S. Wislander, J. Nelson, B. Carlson, K. Fossum, S. Harris, G. Munson, E. Ayola, Director.

NEW DIRECTOR TRANSFORMS MARCHING

As the clarinet and flute sections look on, Mr. Ayola rehearses the brass section of the CHS band.

As one sits in first period study hall, he can hear the echo of a bass drum booming from the band room. Then follow the swinging notes of a rousing march.

This year's marching band, under the supervision of our new director, Mr. Edward Ayola, has developed into a high-stepping and well-disciplined organization.

Besides marching at the Western University Homecoming, the band puts on fine half-time shows at the home football games. It also plays in the Cornbelt Conference Band Festival, spring and winter concerts for the community, and competes in the District Band Contest. During the home basketball games, the spectators enjoy performances given by the two C.H.S. pep bands. Mr. Ayola has also continued the school dance band, the "Blue Notes."

Our high-stepping majorettes, B. Grider, B. Smith, C. Ludington, J. Finnicum, and C. Scovil, strike a salute.

BAND INTO HIGH-STEPPING ORGANIZATION

Band officers B. Moody, C. Johnson, B. Carlson, C. Chapman, B. Drescher, and D. Telleen listen to Mr. Ayola relate plans for organization of the pep bands.

GAY, HARMONIOUS ATMOSPHERE PREVAILS

Mixed chorus: FIRST ROW; K. Opalka, C. Moriarity, B. Gillespie, J. Olson, K. Peterson, J. Nelson, R. Calsyn, M. Johnson, P. Wells, J. Dobbels, S. Smith, M. Johnson, A. Knueppel, C. Way. SECOND ROW; Mr. Ayola, E. Cederberg, V. Grant, S. Mize, C. Ludington, T. Munson, B. Scovil, M. Maynard, G. Moore, B. Grider, G. Down, J. Stackhouse. THIRD ROW; J. Finnicum, C. Johnson, S. Stach, S. Way, M. Watson, B. Carlson, B. Drescher, K. Fossum, V. Mardock, B. Naslund, D. Bloom, B. Moore, M. Gustafson, S. Arnstedt, J. Lindquist, C. Johnson, D. Smith, B. Smith, S. Wislander, L. Horberg, B. Hutchinson, C. Chapman, G. Munson, B. Drescher, J. Finnicum, J. Ole, S. Bloom.

At the beginning of every mixed chorus rehearsal, the voice of Glenna Moore can be heard calling roll for Mr. Ayola.

A gay, harmonious atmosphere was provided by the mixed chorus when they performed at the winter and spring concerts. Directed by Mr. Ayola, the mixed chorus had extra time to prepare for contest since neither boys' or girls' choruses attended contest. The musical selections for contests were presented to the community at the spring concert. This year, try-outs were held to make students eligible to remain in mixed chorus, thus giving us a very good choral group.

INTRASCHOOL ATHLETICS

STRESSED BY C. H. S.

As Mrs. Fitzpatrick explains the fundamentals of hockey, GAA officers, Gloria Down, vice-president; Ann Knueppel, booster chairman; Barbara Carlson, point recorder; Coral Johnson, sec.-treas.; Mary Maynard, president; and Phyllis Evans, sports chairman, listen attentively.

The girls of C.H.S. attribute their physical fitness largely to the efforts of Mrs. June Fitzpatrick and the GAA. This year the Girls' Athletic Association sponsored a basketball tournament between the girls of the four classes. The senior champs played the women faculty members and the wives of the men faculty. The GAA also had their usual bowling tournament and volleyball games. At the annual P.E. demonstration, the GAA provided a concession stand, a new attraction.

GAA members: FIRST ROW; L. Horberg, V. Lindquist, M. Vincent, S. Lewis, C. Johnson, K. Opalka, V. Vincent, J. Stackhouse, M. Dekezel, J. Olson, R. Hutchinson, B. Wiley. SECOND ROW; C. Ludington, S. Wislander, N. Stiner, K. Fossum, M. Johnson, L. Reppert, B. Moody, L. Horberg.

Gathered around one of the attractive library bulletin boards are Library Club officers: Glenna Moore, Sec.; Mrs. Kenward, sponsor; Crystal Ludington, vice-president; and Emily Cederberg, president.

The main duties of the Library Club members are to check out books, collect fines, distribute magazines, straighten up the reference room, and locate "lost" books. The C.H.S. library contains an excellent collection of approximately 2500 books which C.H.S. students can enjoy throughout the year. Also, this organization maintains the library bulletin boards which usually encourage students to do more reading.

COMMUNITY KEPT INFORMED

BY WEEKLY COLUMN

The citizens of Cambridge are kept well informed of the weekly activities of C.H.S. through the Maroon and White column in the CAMBRIDGE CHRONICLE. Representative writers from each class tell in their columns of the academic and extra-curricular activities of their classes. A special section of the MAROON AND WHITE, "Potpourri," is a gay little column that concerns the various fads and fancies, and even problems, of students at C.H.S. Readers are sometimes confused when they cannot figure out the identity of the "mystery student" that is described in this special column each week.

Mary Maynard and Verna Lindquist search for new ideas for their weekly columns.

Handing in their copy to Mary Maynard, "Potpourri" writer, are Mike Anderson, Verna Lindquist, Carol Moriarity, Pam Wells, and Janet Utech, class writers.

FFA members: FIRST ROW; D. Palmer, A. Buskirk, F. Boelens, K. Burns, R. Anderson, L. Schumaker, W. Gustafson, D. Carlson, L. Charlet. SECOND ROW; J. Ericson, B. Wells, G. Robinson, E. Stromquist, G. ## F. F. A. STIMULATES FUTURE AG CAREERS

The Future Farmers of America are kept busy the year around working on their various projects such as beef, dairy cattle, swine, sheep, corn, oats, and other crop projects. To keep their organization financially sound, the F.F.A. members park cars at both football and basketball games. They co-sponsor the Sweetheart-Heartthrob Ball and the F.F.A.-F.H.A. Family Night with the F.H.A. The boys also entertain their parents at a Parent-Son Banquet.

F. H. A. TAUGHT SKILLS OF HOMEMAKING

F.H.A. Officers: FRONT ROW; D. Verscheure, N. Stiner, J. Utech, S. Wislander, B. Moody, Miss Kraus, sponsor. SECOND ROW; B. Wiley, V. Vincent, C. Pavel, L. Lief, M. Vincent. THIRD ROW; B. Smith, J. Stackhouse, C. DeMay, M. DeKazel.

The F.H.A. under the supervision of Miss Bernice Kraus not only trains girls for future homemaking duties but also sponsors many other activities. In addition to the usual play school for pre-school children and the Sweetheart-Heartthob Ball, the F.H.A. this year sponsored a K.S.T.T. Teen Hop to raise money. The organization also studied good grooming when representatives from Hurley's Beauty School demonstrated various hairstyles and make-up tricks.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization whose purpose is to "give a boost" to those students interested in making teaching their career. The FTA members keep well informed on teaching requirements and learning about the various phases of teaching. As a project, the FTA gave a coffee party for the unit faculty members. In addition, several members of FTA attended the Blackhawk District FTA meeting in October.

Mrs. Kenward explains details of coming events to the FTA officers, Pam Wells, sec.-treas.; Kay Peterson, vice-president; Gloria Down, historian; Dennis Burns, president; and Barbara Drescher, reporter.

FUTURE TEACHERS "GIVEN A BOOST"

Projection Club members are in great demand when movies are to be shown and tape recorders are in use. These duties, along with a knowledge of how each machine functions and how to keep it in tip-top condition, are the members' speciality. As sponsor, Mr. Philip Shutt sees that these duties are done properly and efficiently.

OUR WORLD OF SPORTS

Our world of sports, one of the most outstanding in Cambridge High School, varies as the seasons change. Frosty autumn nights bring victory and perhaps an occasional defeat to our gridiron as the Vikings are spurred onward by enthusiastic spectators. The winter months, with the varied and highly competitive tournaments, pack gymnasiums as the team racks up fouls, field goals, and free throws. Then, of course, as the globe continues rotating, track season approaches, and once again our world moves out-of-doors.

Our role of sports is one of the most fiercely defended and actively supported of all worlds, for by it, the name of the Vikings is carried throughout the Cornbelt Conference.

FUN, AND LEARNING, ALL PART OF FOOTBALL

The 1959 football practices began on Monday morning, August 31, at seven o'clock. However many of the boys had been getting into condition several weeks before this date. A few had even been "working out" all summer. These young men put forth extra work because they could see the possibility of having a successful season and wanted to be in the best playing condition.

What happened? This is the question that loyal fans who follow the team and most of the players themselves have been asking. Certainly a team that has a two won, five lost, 1 tied record and shared the conference cellar with Joy, cannot be considered successful. As a matter of fact, this season was one of the worst seasons in the history of C.H.S.

However, many facts indicate that our team was not so poor as the won-lost record shows. Allowing fewer points to be scored against us than any other team in the conference, we were rated the best defensive team. Although we lost five of eight games, our opponents outscored us by an average of less than three points per game. The team was never outscored by more than two touchdowns, and this occurred against Orion, who became conference Champs.

We must also remember that Orion defeated us by fewer points than they defeated any other team in the conference. We were defeated by one point when we played Winola, which tied for second place in the conference. The other second place team, Atkinson, beat us by only one touchdown. With more time, we might have tied or defeated them as we were just four yards away from a touchdown when the final gun sounded. This situation seemed to occur in all of the games we lost. The team came close on each occasion, but we could never win.

In this unsuccessful sport, the Vikings started and ended the season successfully by beating Erie in the first game and Rockridge in the last. Homecoming was a happy occasion since we tied Joy. The players will never forget our trips to Iowa City to watch Iowa Hawkeyes. Most of all, the boys will remember the fun they had working at practice, playing games, and learning the lessons of life that football can teach.

"Pass it to me!" Wayne Fickling seems to yell as Bob Naslund runs into trouble.

"First down" and Cambridge receives another series of downs.

One of the Frosh-Soph first string members, Bill Lange, makes a jump shot giving the Vikings the lead in the Atkinson-Cambridge game.

FROSH-SOPH GAINS VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

This year, Coach Alan Rumley's Frosh-Soph squad had a fairly good basketball season. The team ended with a record of eight wins and nine losses. In the conference, they had a 7-7 record, which is considered an average season. During the season the Frosh-Soph team gained the coveted "Nubbin" once from Joy and once from Sherrard.

Since this year's squad was made up of inexperienced freshmen, the average of the team did not rise until the middle of the season. However, after a few games the boys gained both the experience and confidence that helped them win many of their games.

"We want a basket. Let's put it in . . ." yells the crowd as Bill Lange sinks a lay-up shot at the annual Parents' Night game.

POTENTIALS OF A "CHAMPIONSHIP" TEAM RE

Barbara Grider leaps into the air, thrilled by the basket which was made, winning Joy-Cambridge game.

After having two not-so-successful basketball seasons in the past two years, fans and students alike were hoping for a champion - ship team. Not only hoping, but expecting, to have a successful season since the team had been grade school and frosh-soph Conference champs. Coached by Dean Youngberg, our team had plenty of potential; however something was lacking.

During the season, we lost nearly two-thirds of our games. The Vikings started the season fairly well, defeating a weak Wethersfield team and squeaking by a stronger Geneseo five. After these two games, we lost the next four, including three conference games. Next on the schedule was the Galva Holiday Tournament. In the first game, we defeated a very strong Princeville team. However, this form was lost overnight and was not completely regained until our second meeting with Joy. It was then too late, as there were only five conference games remaining in the season. Of these five games, the team won four and climbed from the conference cellar to tie for fifth place.

The Cornbelt Conference Tournament was held in Cambridge this year and added to our hopes. However, we lost in the first round.

After a week's rest, the Vikings started the regional tournament play with equally high hopes for going places. Our ambitions were brought to a sudden halt as we lost to Rova in the first round, thus ending another very disappointing basketball season at C.H.S.

Basketball Squad: FIRST ROW; R. Hultman, M. Maynard, M. Johnson, B. Grider, M. Gustafson, G. Down, L. Reppert, B. Naslund. SECOND ROW; J. Finnicum, S. Harris, L. Schnowske, W. Fickling, J. Surrounded by members of the Knoxville squad, Wayne Fickling receives an assist as he attempts to seize a rebound.

Varsity cheerleaders: Joan Finnicum, Barbara Grider, Mary Maynard, and Gloria Down.

CHEERLEADERS SPARK SCHOOL SPIRIT

"Stamp, clap, stamp, clap!" The Vi-Kadets, our pep club, rocks with the rhythm that our cheerleaders display. After weeks of practicing in addition to designing and purchasing uniforms, the Viking cheerleaders lead the teams in both victory and defeat. During the summer practice, these tireless girls work out routines for football and basketball seasons. As representatives of our team and school, the cheerleaders themselves must maintain good sportsmanship. Since the duties of a cheerleader are so vital to school spirit, tryouts are held before the students each spring. At the Honor Assembly, C.H.S. cheerleaders are awarded Maroon C's, the equivalent of the athletes' major letters.

Frosh-Soph cheerleaders: Lynda Reppert, Mary Ann Gustafson, and Marilyn Johnson.

"They're off!" shout the spectators, as the distance runners vie for a good position.

VIKINGS HOST 1960 CONFERENCE TRACK MEET

"Up and over" is Roger Hultman's motto as he clears another hurdle.

This year more enthusiasm was shown towards track at C.H.S. By mid-term season, we still had thirty boys participating in track. During this season, the Clinton Relays were added to our schedule. Previously, the only major meets were the Galva relays and our own Cornbelt Conference meet.

The only outstanding individual performer on the track team was high jumper, Larry A. Johnson. In our first dual meet, Larry jumped 5'9" to break the school record.

Our only other entry which placed at Galva was the mile relay team. This team had been centered around Wayne Fickling and Larry Carlson, but it was soon discovered that Jim Peterson could also run the quarter in 55 seconds. With these combinations, we hope to place quite high in the Conference meet.

Burl Moody shows us the correct stance as he prepares to throw the discus.

In the broadjump, Bob Naslund "sails" through the air to win first place in the ROVA meet.

CAMBRIDGE TRACKMEN ENTERED IN MANY

"Take it and go!" yells Gene Stromquist as he hands the baton to Dick Anderson during a Frosh-Soph relay.

"Come on, Bob! You gotta win!" screams the crowd as Bob Naslund loses ground.

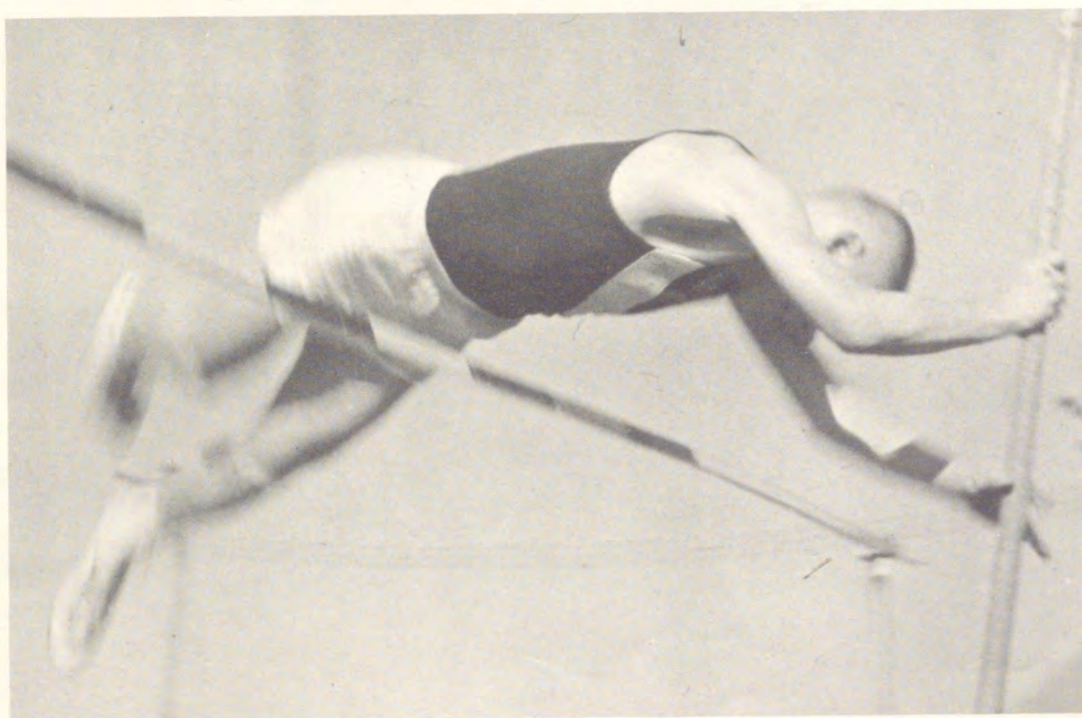

It's a close finish as Larry Carlson, Wayne Fickling, and Bob Naslund try for the first three places in the hundred yard dash at the ROVA track meet.

DIFFERENT MEETS DURING SEASON

With a last spurt of effort, another Cambridge pole vaulter clears the bar.

WORLD OF ACTIVITIES

Romance, entertainment, and fun are important facets of life at Cambridge High School, introduced through our world of activities. After-game soc hops, the carnival, the various and enjoyable holiday dances and the extra-special Hop and Prom combine to add that magic touch and much-needed variety to everyday school life. Operating on a school-wide wave length, our world of activities involves the time and energy of almost every organization and faculty member.

"NEW FASHIONS" INVADE C. H. S.

Long underwear, bib over-alls, make-up worn by boys and signs saying "I love Seniors." Only on Initiation Day were these items worn by the freshmen considered the "vogue of the day" at C.H.S. The weird combination of garments made an interesting contrast to the clothing worn by the seniors, who held a dress-up day as they initiated the new freshmen.

Sophomores and juniors looked on with amusement as the senior masters put their slaves through the tasks that made the forty-two freshmen official members of C.H.S. As the day progressed, it became almost impossible to find a slave who was not tolerantly sweeping a path, carrying books, or doing any number of odd jobs dreamed up by a senior.

In the evening at the party in their honor, the freshmen presented a program. As the initiation party sponsored by the senior class ended, every upperclassman was happy to welcome the class of '64 into high school.

"Be sure you get it clean!" commands Tom Swan as his "slave" cleans the Jeep.

"Down and out" might describe Bettine Gillespie as Karen Fossum and Linda Horberg make life miserable for her.

David Hutchinson checks to see that Larry Charlet and Francis Boelens have the "vital necessities."

ALUMNI WELCOMED BACK TO C. H. S.

Homecoming Court: FROM ENDS; D. Anderson and L. Reppert, freshmen attendants; J. Finnicum and B. Grider, sophomore attendants; W. Robinson and P. Wells, junior attendants; L. A. Johnson and C. Johnson, senior attendants; B. Horberg and P. Atkinson, crown bearers; J. Ole and L. Engquist, last year's royalty; C. Chapman and S. Mize, 1959 King and Queen.

Leading the grand march at the Homecoming dance are King and Queen, Chuck Chapman and Sharon Mize, followed by attendants, Larry Johnson and Carol Johnson.

A pep session before an open bonfire, maroon and white mums, decorated goal posts, and much reminiscing by former students of C.H.S. added to the gaiety and success of Homecoming on October 16.

The evening began with a gridiron battle against Joy. The band provided half-time entertainment as the queen candidates rode before the grandstand in convertibles.

Following the game, a program was held in the gymnasium honoring the alumni. Welcomes were given to the past graduates and honors presented to the senior football players by members of the Student Council. This program was concluded by the long-awaited crowning of the King and Queen, Chuck Chapman and Sharon Mize. Attendants to the royal couple were: Freshmen, Lynda Reppert and Dick Anderson; Sophomores, Barbara Grider and John Finnicum; Juniors, Pamela Wells and Ward Robinson; Seniors, Carol Johnson and Larry Johnson.

Dancing to the music of Robert Hodgett's orchestra concluded the evening's entertainment.

Queen candidates, Sharon Mize and Carol Johnson, receive a ride on the stately seat of honor during homecoming game.

One of the patrons of the annual Carnival waits patiently to see her "fish" as Sharron Arnstedt "baits" the hook.

Preparations for the Viking Carnival began many weeks before the actual date. Classes were sponsoring coffee parties, bake sales, washing cars, and picking up corn to earn money for precious royalty votes. At the carnival, people of all ages tried their luck at Dunk-a-Viking, fishing, basketball, or the cakewalk. After a program on "beatnik life," the junior candidates, Glenna Moore and Bud Veal, were crowned King and Queen to top off another successful Viking Carnival which netted about $1100 for the publishing of the Viking.

JUNIORS RECEIVE THE COVETED CROWNS

Our carnival beatniks, Gloria Down, Linda Horberg, and Coral Johnson, relax on their "pads."

Royal Court: READING TO CENTER; D. Humphrey and M. Gustafson, Freshman attendants; B. Moody and M. DeKezel, sophomore attendants; J. Ole and B. Moody, senior attendants; D. Telleen and E. Cederberg, 1959 King and Queen; and B. Veal and G. Moore, 1960 King and Queen.

A soda-straw star, glittering snowflakes, and an angel-hair covered tree presented modern types of decorations for the Honor Society's all-student party. Large boxes of gifts were distributed by the society members and rousing holiday songs were sung. The program consisted of a "Beatnik Night Before Christmas" oration and the original Biblical Christmas story. Hours of enjoyable dancing followed as CHS ushered in the Christmas season and prepared to welcome the New Year.

Both the band and the choruses thoroughly enjoyed presenting the annual Christmas Concert.

FESTIVE SEASON CELEBRATED AT C. H. S.

For a variation of the usual dance steps, this group does a "walk."

With the saxophone leading, the rest of the band furnishes accompaniment to provide us with pleasant dance music.

Couples fill the floor as the first dance of the Sweetheart Ball begins to play.

Under the watchful eye of Cupid, a few couples enjoy the last dance.

CUPID CAPERS AT SWEETHEART BALL

A non-conformist decoration committee selected pink and silver as the Valentine colors for the Sweetheart-Heartthrob Ball. Entitled "Cupid Capers," the motif consisted of pink and white streamers over the dance floor and an enormous silver cupid aiming his posed arrow above the heads of the spectators. Barbara Grider and Melvin Van Rie were honored as the Sweetheart and Heartthrob for 1960. As the evening progressed, the floor filled with dancers eager to try their skill at new steps, proving that the World of C.H.S. is making progress even in social graces.

Balancing sixty pounds of weights on his shoulders while doing the "Russian Dance" is Bob Anderson, as other weight-lifters watch.

MANY NEW FEATURES ADDED TO SHOW

The annual P.E. Demonstration is designed to demonstrate the physical fitness of C.H.S. students. Rope climbing, pyramids, tumbling, and folk dancing were regular features whereas weight lifting, girls' basketball, and a girls' comedy pyramid routine were new features. During intermission, the GAA sponsored a lunch stand in the cafeteria.

A different type of basketball, boxing basketball, was demonstrated by the junior and senior P.E. boys to the large crowd that attended the gym show.

HUMOR, SYMPATHY DEPICTED AT "CLOISTERS"

"Please, Mrs. Paddy, answer me. Did you take those bonds?" Dr. Emmett quizzes Mrs. Paddy as to the whereabouts of the Savage bonds as Senator Titus Savage eagerly awaits the answer.

"Oh don't read us ANYTHING out of the paper!" shrieks Fairy May as Mrs. Savage, Jeff and Florence look on anxiously.

Not used to wearing such "heavy" make-up, following the class play, Gary Hutchinson and Scott Harris found welcome relief in a jar of cold cream.

A first impression of the junior class play title, "The Curious Savage," would indicate a tale of the jungle, as it was, but in another sense. The plot revolved around slightly demented individuals living in a sanitarium, the "Cloisters." Mrs. Savage, a wealthy widow, is committed to this mental home and proceeds to involve the happy people she meets there in a scramble of greedy Savage search for family bonds. Directed by Mrs. Inez Kenward, the cast and crew fought snowstorms, spring mud, and mumps to make rehearsals and to present a fine play.

FINE PERFORMANCE PROVIDES A LIGHT MOOD

Under the direction of Mr. Ayola, the band conducted the audience on a tour of various sections of New York, in "Night Beat."

On a warm, late-spring evening, the musicians of our small world arrived in frothy evening gowns and suits to present the annual spring concert, directed by Mr. Edward Ayola. The gaily gowned girls' chorus sang light numbers, after which the men's chorus gave two rousing songs. The mixed chorus presented several variety numbers. Those who had attended state contests also presented their numbers.

After the intermission, the senior band took the stage and presented marches, overtures, and a novelty number. Mr. James Finley of Bloomington, a former music director, took the baton from Mr. Ayola to direct the National Emblem March. For many days following the concert, both band and chorus members relived their final concert via tape recorder.

Members of the girls' chorus listen attentively as the boys sing a rousing version of "Rollin' Down to Jordan."

One of the highlights of the Spring Concert was the mixed choruses' presentation of their contest pieces.

Sophomore hosts Penny Campbell, Gary Robinson, Sandy Lewis and Don Moore put a finishing touch on the decorations before joining the dancers.

KING NEPTUNE REIGNS AT HOP

Guests at the Hop danced under the watchful eye of the queen of the sea, the mermaid.

A shapely mermaid, glittering fish, and a treasure chest of jewels set the scene for the Freshman-Sophomore Hop. Entitled "The Enchanted Sea," the hop, sponsored by the Sophs, presented dancing by records and an evening of fun for faculty and students. The Hop is a kind or preliminary "trial run" for the real challenge of working on the Prom.

Under the stars and lavender sky of a "Midsummer Night," Prom goers enjoyed an evening of dancing.

Maridell Johnson and John Cauwells are served punch from the wishing well by sophomore waiter, Burl Moody.

PROM GOERS ENJOY A "MID-SUMMER'S NIGHT"

The most memorable social event of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. This season the juniors presented, "A Midsummer Night" theme and although they ran into fish pond difficulties, they can still boast that they sponsored one of the finest in our history of Proms.

The banquet was served by class mothers and followed by a short program, with Tom Anderson as toastmaster. Robert Hodgett's band provided music including our popular cha-chas and rhumbas.

John Conrad and Karol Opalka were crowned king and queen of the '60 Prom.

The decorations featured a diamond-shaped, lavender and white ceiling, silver stars, a wishing well and a blue pool of frightened goldfish. A splendid night of dancing ended at twelve.

After sleepily watching "Hit the Deck" at the local theater, we arrived bleary-eyed at the Raymond Well's residence for breakfast in the wee hours of the morning.

During the welcome to the seniors, Lyle Neumann told many "jokes."

HONOR PROGRAM CREDITS

DESERVING STUDENTS

Out-going president of the Student Council, Bev Moody, repeats the oath of office to Tom Anderson, in-coming president, as Bob Anderson, Nancy Stiner, and Nancy Johnson follow in their programs.

At the last school assembly, all of the honors and letters were awarded to those students who had earned them. After the installation of the new Student Council and Honor Society officers, the 1960 Viking was dedicated. As David Hutchinson, Viking editor, announced the dedication, Mr. Kenneth Neumann was wheeled down the aisle amidst great applause. Although handicapped, Mr. Neumann has retained an avid interest in our school and as a past school board president, explained the origin of our new school building.

Other awards were then given: G.A.A., Library, English, including the National Merit Scholarship winner, Dave Telleen, Latin, Band, and Athletics. To the hard working accompanist, the chorus presented Kay Peterson with a watch. The annual staff expressed their gratitude to Elisabeth Westerlund for her twenty-two years as Viking advisor with a present.

For her years of service as yearbook advisor, Miss Westerlund receives a gift from "Viking" editor David Hutchinson.

After receiving the dedication of the 1960 Viking from Dave Hutchinson, Kenneth Neumann gives a brief summary of the background of our school.

SENIORS LEAVE THE WORLD OF C. H. S.

Class of 1960

Rev. Chapman, Baccalaureate speaker, points out the hazards of war and its danger to education at the annual Baccalaureate exercises.

To the first strains of Pomp and Circumstance, another C.H.S. class began their procession to the graduation platform. This, the largest class ever to graduate, consisted of fifty-one members.

The graduates, in maroon and white caps and gowns, heard an inspiring address by Dr. Arthur Arnold of Augustana College. John Sherrard, school board president, awarded the diplomas after which the reception line was formed to receive congratulations from the community. A capacity crowd wished the Class of 1960 "good luck" and "happiness" in their future endeavors.

1960 Viking Staff

DOORS OF "OUR SMALL WORLD" CLOSE

Two years ago, I was offered the position of Editor of the 1960 Viking. At that time, I was quite unsure of my qualifications, but now I am glad I accepted the responsibility for this task. Compiling the Viking has given me a sense of responsibility, and has taught me accuracy and the value of co-operation.

I extend a thank-you to the 1960 staff and to the student body as a whole for making my work much lighter. Also I wish to acknowledge our indebtedness to the STAR COURIER for providing the carnival pictures. In addition, I thank the following for their assistance in the development of this year's annual, the Viking:

Miss Elisabeth Westerlund . . . . .	Adviser
Mr. Philip Shutt . . . . .	Carnival Adviser
Mr. William Schultz . . . . .	Photographer
Mr. M. L. Gardner . . . . .	American Yearbook Co.
