HISTORY OF A YEAR AT

HISTORY

School takes a lot out of a kid.

And you get there and what happens?

Sometimes there's excitement.

The school doors opened on August 30, 1965 after a too short vacation. Everyone enjoyed themselves at the all-school party held September 10. The juniors ordered their class rings September 9 and settled down for a long wait.

October came with the juniors taking PSAT tests, and homecoming. This year homecoming started with a snake dance on Thursday night and ended with the dance on Saturday night, with the Orion homecoming game on Friday.

November started with a thrilling football win over Alwood and ended with the first basketball game with Wethersfield. Also in November, Carnival was held with the sophomores reigning. Welcome vacation came over Thanksgiving.

December brought all the usual activities-- holiday tourney, music concert, Christmas dance, and FHA caroling party, and Christmas vacation.

When school resumed again on January 3, everyone looked forward to a "great" week of semester tests. But the conference basketball tourney helped make up for this when Cambridge won for the first time in 11 years.

The highlight of February was the annual FFA and FHA Sweetheart-Heartthrob Ball held February 12. The basketball season ended with a 1 point win over Atkinson.

The annual Faculty-Varsity basketball game was held in March. Also, the Sadie Hawkins Dance, open season on boys, was held.

April began with the Junior class play, "Great Caesar's Ghost". The Op-Hop was presented by the sophomores. Also in April, the chorus and band both received their first organization superiors at Macomb. April was also the big money-making month for the Student Council.

As always May was the busiest month. The spring concert was held with both band and chorus presenting their contest numbers. The juniors worked long and hard on the "Old South" prom. Elections were held May 16, Honor Assembly May 19, the seniors' Baccalaureate May 29, and graduation on June 2, which marked "Only the Beginning" for the seniors and the end of another school year.

GUIDING FACTOR AT CHS

Mr. Smith makes out an order for films that will be shown throughout the year to various classes.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Albert Smith, the superintendent of schools, holds one of the most important jobs in the school system. In his hands lay the success of our school. Besides working to keep the school's standards high, Mr. Smith is also available for personal conferences with students. He also teaches the book portion of the drivers' education course. Mr. Smith received his B.S. degree from Northern Illinois University and his Master's degree from Colorado State College of Education.

With the increased number of students and greater amount of work to be done in the high school, a principal is now employed in addition to the superintendent. Our principal is Mr. Wayne Buhlig. He deals with arranging events, scheduling classes, and maintaining discipline. Mr. Buhlig is probably the busiest teacher in the school. As head teacher, he is also responsible for recording absentees and filling out admittance slips for students who have been absent.

The guidance department at CHS consists of Mr. Buhlig and Mr. Donald Palmer. These two men are always willing to help students with personal problems and problems about future vocations. In addition, Mr. Buhlig administers all the tests that are required for college, vocations, or aptitude. Mr. Palmer also teaches industrial arts. These two men are irreplaceable because they're always available for a private conference with students who are having problems selecting a school to attend after they graduate or who need advice in general.

The seven men who comprise the Board of Education do a fine job in making the best decisions for the smooth maintenance of CHS. They discuss and take action on matters such as budgeting the school funds, the school's educational system, and also activities carried on in the school itself. They work from September until May and often during the summer months in order to keep the school running smoothly.

The two ladies who do much in keeping our school running are the secretaries. Mrs. Ina Burgeson and Mrs. Pearl Gillespie are kept busy mimeographing, sorting, and filing the school reports. They also keep track of the financial records of the various organizations in the school, take telephone messages, sell tickets to out-of-town games, and type letters. Besides doing their jobs, these two ladies are always ready with a smile and a remedy to every problem that arises during the course of a school day.

The administration is the guiding force behind our school. Whenever any major problems arise, the students turn to the administration for advice and help--whether it is for scheduling sock hops, or turning in college application forms, the administration is always ready to help.

Mrs. Ina Burgeson is balancing the books at the end of the month.

Mr. Buhlig writes a pass for a student to come to his office later in the day.

Mrs. Pearl Gillespie makes a transcript for another senior's college application.

Mrs. Bjorling points out a book that her English III class might find worth while.

Marvin VanDyke is having problems with his Modern English and asks Mrs. Jonson for help.

A LANGUAGE COMES ALIVE

ENGLISH

English is perhaps the most important course offered at CHS. It is the only one required for four years, and the reasons are obvious. No one can communicate with others properly without being able to read, write, and speak the English language.

The English I course places a great deal of emphasis on grammar along with short stories. English II, and JULIUS CAESAR is undertaken. American literature is studied the junior year and English literature the senior year. Modern English may be taken the senior year. This places more emphasis on grammar, although all four years of English emphasize grammar.

Mrs. Jonson combines supervising study hall with correcting papers for her Modern English class.

Mrs. Kenward tells her English IV class about the Elizabethan Period in English literature.

Sharon Conrad finds the exercises assigned in English IV very difficult and consults Laurel Heck about it.

Mrs. Decker, our Spanish teacher, has a big job on her hands.

Mrs. Kenward, Mrs. Jonson, Mrs. Decker, and Mrs. Bjorling discuss language differences at a meeting of the language department.

FOREIGN LAND AND SPEECH

SPANISH

Many freshmen and sophomores are heard walking through the halls of CHS reciting passages with strange-sounding words. These unfamiliar words are Spanish. Spanish is a two-year course taught by Mrs. Barbara Decker. Each day many Spanish students are heard moaning over an assignment in the workbook or trying vainly to learn to speak in a conversation. Conjugations and the pronunciation of letters soon come to the students though, and they begin to talk and read with fluency. The work is well worth it. At the end of two years these students find they are able to speak, read, and write Spanish quite well.

Mrs. Decker helps Jill Lindbeck with an especially difficult exercise in her Spanish book.

"Now you've done it! Go to the office immediately!"

FOR SELF-IMPROVEMENT

"What causes prejudice?" Mr. Buhlig asks his psychology class.

Donna Swanson gives her extemporaneous speech during a forum discussion while Cheryl Fike and Mary Rebout, other members of the discussion, await their chance.

Mr. Buhlig quizzes his psychology class to see if they have read the chapter.

SPEECH AND PSYCHOLOGY

"I need TIME for June 12, April 10, and July 8, 1965 and NEWSWEEK for May 8, 1964. I have to give another speech." This is the sad story many librarians hear from the speech students. Mrs. Kenward teaches speech, a very worthwhile subject for everyone. Early in the year students learn to research topics and prepare extemporaneous speeches. At the end of the semester, a topic is researched and a five-minute speech is prepared. Later in the year teenage drinking, the curfew, federal aid to schools and many other topics are discussed or debated. Students learn parliamentary procedure and how to run a meeting efficiently. Telling stories and anecdotes are fun for everyone. Speech teaches students self-confidence in speaking situations.

In psychology, which is taught by Mr. Wayne Buhlig students learn to live in their surroundings and develop a more wholesome outlook on life. They learn about their behavior and some of the reasons why people act as they do. They study and discuss problems of everyday life--How can I improve my personality? How can we solve family conflicts? How can I reach emotional maturity? These are a few of the problems that the class attempts to solve. Mental illness, love and marriage, learning, and many other subjects are also discussed. Experiments and discussion make psychology a very interesting and rewarding class.

During psychology class everyone joins in a discussion on psychosis.

HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies Department at CHS offers a variety of courses to students, especially those who want a history major.

Mr. Birkett teaches U.S. history and modern problems. In U.S. history, students learn of the foundation and forming of our country. During the first semester, the juniors have a test on the U.S. Constitution and the flag. The test has to be passed in order to receive credit for the course. Modern problems is a study of today's problems in our nation and the world. While taking this course, the students have to keep on their toes about national and international affairs, and it is hoped that the interests developed in this class will carry on throughout life.

World history, a study of civilization from early times with emphasis on geography, is taught by Mr. Devinney. Students learn about other nations from the beginning of time right up past the founding of the U.S. and to present day international affairs. Civics, another social studies offered at CHS, is the study of the functions of our government. The course, taught by Mr. Truckenbrod, prepares students with the answers to a few of the problems they may encounter in the future. Participating students learn the functions of the branches of our government and government commissions.

Mr. Birkett, Mr. Devinney, and Mr. Truckenbrod discuss world affairs.

Mr. Birkett discusses a current events report with the modern problems class.

Mr. Devinney often finds that he must do more homework than his students.

Virginia Lindquist discusses her test grade with Mr. Birkett.

Mr. Mungerson demonstrates to Mr. Place and Mr. Wigant a new piece of equipment the math and science department ordered.

MATH & SCIENCE: EVER IMPORTANT

MATH

The math program at CHS consists of Algebra I and II, geometry, solid geometry and trigonometry. Mr. Wilbur Wigant and Mr. Don Mungerson head the department.

Algebra I is required of freshmen. This course is basic to all other more advanced math courses that are offered. Geometry is considered the second year math course. Participants in this course analyze plane figures along with theorems and angles. The make-up of this course provide a fascinating study for those interested in math. Mr. Wigant teaches Algebra II to the juniors and seniors. This course goes deeper into the mechanics of math and gives a solid preparation for the final math course, a combination of solid geometry and trigonometry. Algebra II has many phases--everything from equations to long remembered and long worked on story problems. Anyone taking the last course knows the rewarding feeling of working hard on a problem and finally finding the correct solution. This most advanced course of the program requires much thought and calculation.

Steve Leander made a "minor little mistake" on his chemistry experiment and wonders if it will make any difference.

Mr. Wigant gives his Algebra II class some hints on solving the equations for the next day.

Mr. Mungerson distributes test papers to his general science class.

ANT IN ATOMIC AGE

SCIENCE

Cambridge is fortunate in having such a well equipped science department. The high school with general science, biology, chemistry, and physics, excellent equipment, and the teaching skill of Mr. Don Mungerson and Mr. Norman Place is outstanding for a small school. All freshmen are required to take general science where they are given a broad background in science. This helps the students who take biology in their sophomore year. Drawing pictures of plant cells and microscopic animals as they are seen under the microscope is an important part of the course. Students also enjoy doing delicate brain surgery on a frog or dissecting a pig's eye. Lab work is an important part of both physics and chemistry. In physics experiments, sounds often have the whole school holding their ears. However, no one minds that as much as the smell of sulfur that creeps through the school when chemistry begins.

At the end of four years, a student knows he has a good basis for using science in a job or in future studies.

Pam Galle and Merle Muller read the next step in a test for hydrogen and set up the equipment.

Mr. Place demonstrates how finely divided particles of wood burn better than larger pieces.

THOROUGH PREPARATION FOR

Arnold Lindquist and Gary Versluys inspect the corn crop raised by the ag class.

VOCATIONAL

One phase of the vocational department is the industrial arts and agriculture phase. Industrial Arts I-III is taught by Mr. Donald Palmer and Mr. Floyd Wohrley teaches Agriculture I-IV.

The first semester of Industrial Arts I is spent drafting and the second semester with wood projects that don't require the use of power tools. During the second year, the boys spend the first 2 six weeks drafting. The majority of the year, then, is spent in the shop. Since the second year boys are allowed to use power tools, they turn out such projects as cabinets, tables, and bars. Industrial Arts III spends only six weeks drafting and the remainder of the year on projects.

This year, for the first time, ag was offered for four years. An agriculture major provides boys with a sound background in farming. During the four years, the boys study livestock breeding and fertilizers, keep farm record books and work on shop projects.

Mr. Palmer and Mr. Wohrley discuss some of the happenings of the class during the day and plan for the projects the boys are going to be working on in the near future.

FUTURE OCCUPATIONS

Miss Lawrence tells her Home Ec II girls which pages to read in their CO-ED magazines.

VOCATIONAL

The vocational department here is divided into two phases. Miss Mariam Lawrence heads one phase which consists of Home Economics I and II and family living.

Home Ec I is an introductory course to sewing and cooking. During the course of the year, the freshmen prepare breakfast, sew aprons, and plan meals, and study nutrition. Babysitting and home nursing are also phases of the Home Ec I course. For two weeks during the year, freshmen industrial arts boys and the home ec girls switch classes and have fun learning what other classes are like. The sophomores have a more advanced course. The girls sew dresses, bake rolls, and as one of their bigger projects, make jelly. There are a few failures, but the course accomplishes its purpose of teaching the girls home-making techniques.

The family living class studies love, courtship, and marriage. They plan furnishings for a home, insurance, and consumer buying along with cooking and baking.

The Home Ec II girls find babysitting requires a great deal of patience and a lot of imagination.

FUTURE OFFICE WORKERS

Mr. Farrow points to the next letter the freshman in personal typing are to learn.

COMMERCIAL

For those students who plan to work in an office after they graduate from CHS, commercial courses are a must. All freshmen are required to take a semester of personal typing in which they learn basic typing skills that are helpful to them throughout their school years. In Typing I students build their speed and learn to type various business forms. Shorthand teaches the juniors to take dictation, transcribe letters, and use the dictaphone.

In their senior year, students have a choice of taking office practice or bookkeeping. Office practice teaches the skills needed in actual office work. Students do filing, make out payrolls, send telegrams, type business letters, and try to take shorthand at at least 100 words per minute.

Bookkeeping requires neat work and accurate figuring. Students learn bookkeeping systems, practice making balance sheets and work sheets, and learn to use different types of journals.

By the time a student graduates from CHS with a commercial major he should be an asset to any office.

Miss Maras, Mr. Buhlig, and Mr. Farrow teach the commercial courses.

Miss Maras helps some freshmen with their personal typing.

Miss Maras tapes a letter on the dictaphone for her shorthand students.

REFRESHING BREAK IN DAY

Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Truckenbrod discuss the technical rules of hockey.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education provides a refreshing break in the day's activities for the students. As soon as the bell rings for a P.E. class, the students go downstairs and change into some very old, very comfortable tennies and gym clothes, and then go upstairs to do warm-up exercises. Many of the girls this year warmed-up to "Go You Chicken Fat" and hoped it would.

The fall of the year is spent on outdoor sports--the girls playing field hockey and the boys football. The majority of the year has to be spent inside due to the cold weather, and a variety of sports are engaged in. Both classes enjoy playing basketball and spend about six weeks on it. Between the two gym classes, the students tire themselves playing volley ball, deck tennis, baseball, pressing weights, and engaging in a variety of other activities.

By the time gym class is over, everyone is tired, but refreshed and almost ready to go back to studying.

Ron Reed and Kent Boberg cheer as their team scores again.

Roger Palmer and Jay Gibson seem proud when their team wins.

Rick Hedden and John Sherrard enjoy a good game of volley ball.

UPKEEP & TRANSPORTATION

JANITORS AND BUS DRIVERS

Mr. Clean and Handy Andy of CHS are Mr. Martin Nelson and Mr. Robert Burns. These two men have the big job of keeping our school clean and neat. Every morning of the school-year they arrive early to turn up the furnace and straighten the desks. Every day after school these two men are seen in the classrooms sweeping floors, picking up lost pens and pencils and other items that have been misplaced, and emptying waste baskets. Minor emergencies and mechanical breakdowns receive their attention. Their big job comes during the summer when they polish floors, do repair work and keep the lawns trimmed and neat.

Every day in each bus drivers' care are more than fifty students. These students depend on the safe driving that these men do. Many problems beset the drivers; breakdowns, snowdrifts, and muddy roads. Yet these men manage their jobs efficiently and faithfully. Mr. Lavern Peterson, the head bus driver keeps the buses in good running order. On nights of away games, the drivers are always ready to drive us to the games. They are always friendly and good natured, even when we cheer and sing on the way home from the games. These drivers enjoy driving the buses and many have been driving for many years.

WORK FOR HEALTH AT CHS

Mrs. Neumann, Mrs. Boberg, Mrs. Steffen, Mrs. Lundell, and Mrs. Tucker begin preparations for lunch.

COOKS AND NURSE

An important member of the CHS Staff is the school nurse. In the Cambridge school system the nurse is Mrs. Ruth Dahlberg. She takes care of cuts, bruises, and broken bones efficiently and carefully. Besides supplying band-aids and taking care of wounds, Mrs. Dahlberg annually checks the eyes and ears of all the students. Part of her time is spent at the grade school performing the same services mentioned above. She also teaches a home nursing course each year to the girls enrolled in home economics.

Mrs. Dahlberg is the sponsor of the local group of the Future Nurses of America. Mrs. Dahlberg is readily available to give guidance or instructions when needed. Her services are quite necessary and could not easily be dispensed with.

Vitamins, proteins, quantity, and the budget are some of the problems which face the school cooks. Every day they prepare a nutritious meal for over 300 students in the high school building. The cooks headed by Mrs. Dorothy Tucker, are always striving to prepare the best meal they can. After dinner their work still is not done for they have to wipe tables and wash dishes. Then they begin work for the next day's meal. All the students enjoy the meals the cooks prepare and look forward to mealtime.

Mrs. Dahlberg takes Bill Schumaker's temperature.

CLASSES

AND GROW AT CHS

FRESHMEN

As the custom goes, on the first day of school one could see bewildered freshmen asking upperclassmen which room was which. However, after the first confusing days were over, the freshmen soon fitted into the busy routine at CHS.

Since there was no true Initiation Day this year, the freshmen were officially welcomed into CHS at the annual Initiation Dance. Throughout the year, various organizations held their own initiations just to make sure that the freshmen didn't feel like guests at CHS. By the end of the year, the freshmen felt they were a true part of our school.

The freshmen earned money for the Viking Carnival candidates, Debbie Johnson and Eddie Hedbloom, by having a bake sale and a corn pick-up. They worked long and hard to come in second.

A new activity was organized by the freshmen this year. A special freshman party was given in honor of the new students in their class.

The freshmen had a busy first year participating in various activities and organizations. In between these they contemplated algebra, general science, Spanish, and other subjects. Keeping up with our changing school was quite an achievement in itself.

In February, the FFA and FHA chose Kay Bueseling and Brad Munson to represent the freshman class at the annual Sweetheart Ball.

As their first year at CHS was ending, the Fresh-Soph Hop was held. Debbie Johnson and Brad Munson were selected as the prince and princess of the 1966 Hop.

All the freshmen eagerly await next year when they will be sophomores and not the "babies" of CHS. Nevertheless their freshman year will be an unforgettable one for many.

Charlotte Erdman takes part in the archery assembly and learns how to shoot an arrow.

A YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT

Sometimes the "law" catches up with the sophomores.

SOPHOMORES

After one year at CHS, the sophomores looked forward to a less hectic year, only to find it busier than ever. The teachers drilled modern geometry, Spanish grammar, world history, and many other subjects, all of which came into one ear and went quickly out the other.

One of the major projects for the sophomores was the Viking Carnival. Since the whole class worked hard on a chili supper and a work day, their candidates, Carol Telleen and Tom Reed, were crowned king and queen of the Carnival.

The sophomores attended career day at Orion High School where they listened to speakers speak about various occupations. Many members of the class began the day with bright hopes for the future, only to become thoroughly confused by the end of the day.

Sports also entered into the picture for the sophomores at CHS. Many sophomore boys proved to be a vital key in the winning Junior Varsity basketball squad. A few sophomores who were promoted to the Varsity squad in football, basketball, and track, proved to be very stiff competition for the juniors and seniors.

The sophomores also took an active part in organizations--some as officers and others as participants. At the end of the year, there was much campaigning for the various offices they hoped to hold during their junior year.

After semester tests were over, many sophomores felt as if they had chosen the wrong courses the spring before. However, throughout the year, the sophomores usually led the classes on the honor roll and on honorable mention.

This year the Fresh-Soph Hop was changed to a sock hop. However, a few simple decorations were arranged under the theme of the "Op Hop". The freshmen and sophomores became artists that night as they decorated their own tables with original designs. In honor of the freshmen, a short skit and a few games were planned. For those who attended, the simple "Op Hop" was a memorable night.

As another year at CHS slips away, the sophomores look forward to their junior year when they will accept and carry out more new responsibilities. The days of being underclassmen are over.

JUNIORS

"Upperclassmen at last!" the juniors boasted as they entered their third year at CHS. But these juniors soon found out that being upperclassmen required a lot more work as well as offering much more fun. First of all they were now the leaders rather than just the members in many active organizations. Second, alas, the subjects seem to get tougher each year and such classes as chemistry and Algebra II kept them very busy. The boys were now fighting for the honor of our school on the Varsity teams in football, basketball, and track.

As the end of school drew near, the juniors found that they were busier than ever. A cast and crew were chosen for their class play, "Great Caesar's Ghost," and rehearsals began. (Although these weren't exactly all work and no play, were they!) After just a few little horrible mistakes at dress rehearsal, the juniors were ready to present their play. Naturally after all that work, it was a great success, and they were able to begin making plans to spend their money on the Junior-Senior Prom. Many hours of work went into the job of transforming the gym into a scene from "The Deep South" of a hundred years ago.

YEAR IS THE BEST AT CHS

Finally, it was the last few days of school, but the Juniors look forward to an even busier year as they become the "mighty, mighty, seniors" of CHS. They had successfully campaigned for office in many clubs; they had signed up for next year's classes; and they were already beginning to boss the poor underclassmen around: all in preparation for their year as big seniors.

SENIORS

When the seniors entered the doors of CHS for their last year of high school, they looked forward to many events. It wasn't long, however, until the football games, Homecoming, Carnival, and the basketball games were past history and the end of school was in sight. This only meant the seniors were involved in more and more activities--such as sneaking up on some unsuspecting junior and trying to hear the latest prom plans or making plans of their own for such events as class night and graduation.

All at once the year was over, and the seniors celebrated their last full day of high school. All the events of the year were past except Baccalaureate and Graduation, but the graduates know that their graduation isn't the end of work or good times, but "Only the Beginning."

STUDENT GOVERNING BODY

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, sponsored by Mr. George Birkett, is one of the most active clubs of C.H.S. The Student Council plans and decorates for Homecoming, sponsors basketball Parents' Night, and puts on several sock hops during the year.

This year the Council initiated a suggestion box for the use of the students. Several of the suggestions were discussed and put into effect, although all the suggestions were hashed over. The council also revised the outdated Viking Manual.

During Student Council Week, the Council sponsored a Bermuda day, a pancake breakfast, a dress up day, and an assembly which the student body thoroughly enjoyed. Also, during this week, our two council delegates, Ron Reed and Beth Munson, spent the week-end in Chicago attending the National Student Council Convention.

All-out campaigns increased the competition for offices in the Student Council. Posters, buttons, and signs made this year's campaign the most colorful campaign ever seen at CHS. The 1966 Student Council has definitely been one of the most successful.

The Student Council (disguised) demonstrates a typical study hall for the benefit of those who make it typical.

ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP

HONOR SOCIETY

The members of the National Honor Society are the outstanding students of our school academically. Each year a number of sophomores are picked as probationary members. To be selected as a member of Honor Society a student must have an average of 88 or better and must, in the opinion of his teachers, have high qualities of character and leadership. Sponsored by Mr. Smith, Mr. Buhlig, and Mr. Wigant, the Honor Society's annual project is the all-school Christmas Dance. This year, for the first time in many years, the members decorated the gym and tables were used instead of bleachers. Another new idea introduced this year was the awarding of pins to the members in recognition of their high academic abilities. Girls were allowed to choose a charm or pin bearing the Honor Society emblem. Boys were offered a tie clasp or pin. The members received their awards from Mr. Buhlig at an assembly where they were introduced to the student body.

Dick DeBoever points out the probationary members of the honor society to Charlie Swanson.

WORK TO PRODUCE VIKING

VIKING STAFF

As some unsuspecting CHS student turns around he is greeted by the flash of a camera which belongs to one of the photographers on the Viking Staff. The Viking Staff publishes the Cambridge High School annual, the VIKING, which records all the activities, organizations athletic feats, and everything else pertaining to school life throughout the year.

The work of the co-editors, Barb Pickens and Bill Schumaker, begins in the summer when a miniature layout of the annual is planned with the help of the staff sponsor, Mr. Wilbur Wigant. At the start of the school year dummy sheets, layouts made in actual size, and 3R forms, the forms on which copy is sent to the publishing company, are filled out and pictures are taken at all school events.

The photography department this year consisted of Jim Carlson, Dick Gorden, Charles Swanson and Dave Hultgren, who did great jobs of taking candid shots around CHS. This is the only part of the job students are really aware of. Many a Sunday afternoon and many nights were spent by these boys as they developed pictures for hours.

As in everything, there are deadlines to meet and Viking Staff deadlines can make the difference of whether the annuals are on time or late in delivery, so much pushing is done to meet the deadline on time.

After the writers have turned over their articles, the articles must be read, corrected, and typed, which takes many hours of work and much sweat. As the final deadline approaches, pictures must be cropped, copies fitted, and headlines and captions written. Then comes the finished product and all the work and worry has produced a great VIKING Annual.

The Viking Staff raises the money for the annual by sponsoring the Viking Carnival where class competition is encouraged. A King and Queen are crowned from the class which earns the most money.

INFORM TOWN OF CHS LIFE

MAROON AND WHITE

Looking through the Cambridge Chronicle, one is certain to see the "Maroon and White" column. This weekly column is the work of five high school students under the guidance of Mrs. Tyra Jonson.

"A little bit of everything" appears in "Potpourri", a feature written weekly by Cheryl Fike. The general weekly activities of CHS, school "gossip", and a mystery student appear under this heading. Everyone tries to guess the identity of the mystery student from a clue, but no one knows for sure who it is until it is disclosed in the next week's column.

On alternate weeks the freshman-sophomore news is written by Carol Wiley and Jim Moriarity, and the junior-senior news by Virginia Lindquist and Jean Keeney. The freshman news tells of the changing of "bewildered souls" into well-adjusted high school students, while trying to stumble through homework on the side. The sophomore news deals mostly with the studies of its classes. It also gives the public a look at how to struggle through planning your first big party--the Hop. The junior news covers a large area of activities, for everyone knows that the junior year is the busiest, with basketball games, Junior Class Play, and Prom planning. "Cluttered, cluttered", could well summarize the news of the juniors. Last, but not least, is the senior class news. The crowning of the Homecoming king and queen from the senior class, senior pictures, tests, Prom night, tests, the senior class trip, more tests, might well cover their news. Above all, and far in the distance is graduation. With the last column written, the "Maroon and White" is ended for the summer. But don't worry, next year's reporters will again be on the prowl looking for news to inform the public about dear ole CHS and her activities.

Cheryl Fike sometimes has a hard time finding material for her "Potpourri" column and finds she could use "help".

PREPARING

FHA

One of the most active clubs at Cambridge High School is the Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Miss Lawrence. Christmas caroling, sock hops, and the Sadie Hawkins Dance are just a few of the many projects of the F.H.A.'ers. The most important event of the year for the F.H.A. is the co-sponsored Sweetheart Ball.

The Cambridge F.H.A. is an outstanding club in their chapter and section. This year Pat Mariman had the honor of being secretary of the section. At the rally in Kewanee our chapter was in charge of the Emblem Service put on in front of more than six hundred girls.

The main task of the F.H.A. members is earning their degrees which take work and time. The F.H.A. helps the girls develop the skill and responsibilities of a modern homemaker.

FFA

The primary aim of the Future Farmers of America is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. The four degrees of membership are Greenhands, Chapter Farmers, State Farmers, and Honorary Chapter Farmers.

The Future Farmers of America are kept busy the year round working on their various projects such as beef, dairy cattle, swine, sheep, corn, oats, and other crop projects. Parliamentary procedure, public speaking, exhibiting at fairs, judging soil, improving conservation, and sponsoring a parent-son banquet are some of the FFA's many activities.

To keep their organization financially sound, the FFA members park cars at both football and basketball games. The FFA members also attend leadership schools, state and national conventions, the International Livestock Show, and the State FFA Convention.

FTA

The Future Teachers of America is an organization open to students who wish to enter or investigate the teaching profession. Various teachers come to the meetings to acquaint members with all fields of the profession along with some new methods of teaching. Graduated students also came back to tell the club about their experiences in college and some of the latest requirements needed at different schools for a teaching career.

Sponsored by Mrs. Inez Kenward the FTA gives a coffee for the teachers every year. During one afternoon, coffee and cookies are offered to the faculty at CHS. In addition several members of FTA attended the Blackhawk District meetings that were held during the year.

To aid students in learning teaching methods many teachers asked them to help in their classes as assistants.

Cheryl Gustafson as president of the Future Teachers of America presides over a meeting. The FTA is voting on the recipient of the Raymond Johnson Math Award.

F.N.A.

The Future Nurses of America Club is for anyone interested in any field of medicine. Having speakers and movies from many fields, programs were planned for the many interests of the members. Some of the speakers were an air force nurse and a student from a nursery, and the movies were on mental illness and dental technicians.

The F.N.A. took a tour of Peoria Methodist and St. Francis Hospitals in Peoria. At both hospitals they toured the nursing schools and had questions answered.

Helping people is one of the main duties of a nurse so to practice this the F.N.A. took a treat to the people at the convalescent home in Cambridge. Mrs. Ruth Dahlberg, the school nurse, is the sponsor and advises the girls of their nursing careers.

Mr. Bayless gets prepared to show a movie on a career in air force nursing to the FNA members during a meeting.

Sharon Leander finds she has to look up a list of magazines for Lynn Gorden.

Dave Carlson passes some idle moments in study hall looking for a good book to read.

LIBRARY CLUB

The main purpose of the Library Club is to train students for the job of school librarian. Student librarians are present in each study hall to check out books, collect fines, and to help other students in the location of certain books. They are also responsible for keeping the reference room in order and distributing magazines. At the monthly meetings special problems are discussed and, if possible, a solution for them is found. At the end of the meetings, book reports are given by members.

To join this club is an honor, and students may join only by invitation. Most of the new librarians are admitted at the beginning of the second semester of their freshman year. These new members are placed under the supervision of experienced librarians and are referred to as "cadets". Under the guidance of Mrs. Kenward and the other librarians, the cadets gradually learn the tasks and responsibilities of a student librarian.

Each person who joins the club is given a bronze pin. After 170 hours of library work, the student receives a silver pin in exchange for the bronze pin, and no longer has to work at the desk.

Study hall is rather empty as two students look at the books covers on the new bulletin board.

Colleen Fickling admires the new bulletin board one of the librarians has just put up.

WORK DURING STUDY HALLS

Some of the junior boys and a few sophomores find study halls at the end of the day dulling to the nerves and sleep producing. The study hall teacher should soon take care of them.

MEMBERS EXPLORE SCIENCE

Janet Bloom, president of science club, examines a turtle at one of the meetings.

VIKING SCIENCE EXPLORERS

The Viking Science Explorers, sponsored by Mr. Norman Place, is a club composed of students having an interest and curiosity about the many fields of science. Students interested in joining science club must write an essay stating their reasons for wanting to be a member. These applications are considered by the officers. New members are initiated into the club during a formal meeting held in the fall.

During the year the explorers participate in many activities aimed at increasing the scientific knowledge of the members. The meetings, presided over by Janet Bloom, president, have a program planned and presented by a committee of members. Club activities have been field trips, movies, demonstrations, and science projects.

In the spring, many night sessions and free time is spent by the club members preparing for the district and state science fairs. Each club member must exhibit a project at the district science fair, but only the few who receive the A rating go on to state.

TRI-C STRESSES SAFETY

TRI-C

The Courtesy Car Club, better known as "Tri-C", is a relatively new idea around CHS. This club was formed to help promote better and safer driving in today's youth, particularly at Cambridge High School. Mr. Crapnell, the behind-the-wheel driver's education instructor, is the club's sponsor.

During the course of the year, the Tri-C has sponsored several things. A "safety car check" was held in November in which the members of the club gave cars of the community a safety check. Many people were probably surprised when they found that their cars weren't as safe to drive as they thought them to be! The club also held a party for its members at Mr. Crapnell's in the fall. New laws were discussed and the members were brought up to date on ways to improve their driving. Being a good, courteous driver is important to each of the members because one moving violation makes it impossible to remain in the club.

Jolene Scheiferdecker is going to place a Safety Check seal on the window of the driver's training car.

VARSITY CLUB

The honorary organization for athletes at Cambridge High School is the Varsity Club. To be eligible for membership, the boys must earn a varsity letter. This club, sponsored by Mr. Birkett and Mr. Truckenbrod, promotes good sportsmanship among players and builds the incentive for winning performances. It also makes training rules for the school year to safeguard the health and standards of the boys who participate in athletics.

This year the Varsity Club earned money enough to finance the new statistics board in our gym and to buy a camera to take pictures of the games. Money for these projects was earned by selling pins, sock-hops, and by the annual Varsity-Faculty basketball game. At this game, members of the Varsity Club not on the regular basketball squad play against the teachers at CHS. This year, our boys played "Batman, Robin, and the whole gang." As they say in the movies, "the good guys always win," and Batman came out ahead in the end, as usual.

The Mad Hatter tries for a freethrow as Batman urges him on.

GIRLS ENJOY COMPETITION

G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association promotes good sportsmanship and physical fitness. A girl must earn 24 points in specified sports to join.

Field hockey, cage-ball, deck tennis, volleyball, basketball, bowling, swimming, and baseball are some of the sports which the club sponsors. During basketball season, a class tournament is held. The winners are honored by having their class name engraved on the Linda Bloom Memorial trophy.

G.A.A. awards are given by Mrs. Fitzpatrick, the sponsor. The awards are given on the basis of points earned and the number of years in G.A.A. First year members receive a G.A.A. pin, second year members the numerals of the year of their graduation, third year members the first year state award, and fourth year members the second year state award.

An outstanding G.A.A. girl's name is engraved on the G.A.A. trophy for ability in sports and sportsmanship. Awards are also given for excellence in basketball and hockey.

PEP CLUB

"Got the spirit, C.H.S." is one of the many cheers yelled by the pep club. The pep club backs our team in failure and victory. To be in pep club you must attend a number of home games and away games.

Although pep club isn't one of the most active clubs, because of it's size, it did sell key chains and sent the cheer leaders to clinic this year.

The pep club is appreciated by our teams, for, without any backers the team just doesn't have the pep to be a winning team.

Wild cheers follow a tie breaking basket by Bob Peterson during an exciting game.

Dave Jones and Clyde Maertins accept the 3rd place trophy that the team won at the Holiday Tourney.

SCHOOL SPIRIT KEPT HIGH

Leading cheers at the Frosh-Soph games were J. Lindbeck; C. Telleen, S. Peterson, M. Anderson, and D. Johnson.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders of CHS are elected in the spring and start their work almost as soon as the elections are announced. During the summer months the cheerleaders decide on uniforms, make up motions, and practice.

During football season, a cheerleading clinic is held which our cheerleaders attend to pick up some pointers and to get new ideas.

All during the season our Varsity cheerleaders are graded by the other schools in the conference just as the CHS cheerleaders are grading them. This year the Cambridge cheerleaders were voted number 1 by the Cornbelt Conference cheerleaders for the third year in a row, entitling them to permanently keep the trophy.

The Varsity Cheerleaders were S. Leander, S. Leander, C. Leander, B. Munson, and P. DeBoever.

TONE, STYLE, PRACTICE

BAND

There are three types of bands at CHS; the marching band, pep band, and concert band.

The marching band played at all the home games under the direction of Miss Cheryl Fike, head majorette. Hard work, drooping hair, and wet feet were the penalties of marching band, but all the members will agree that it's worth it to entertain the community. The Homecoming show was the highlight of the year when the marching band used lights which made an impressive program.

The pep band livens our home basketball games by playing popular songs, lively marches, and old favorites between games. During two of the games this year, the dance band played instead of pep band and it sounded very nice.

The phase of band which takes the most sweat is the concert band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Burrus. Concert band starts working at the end of football season meeting on Monday, Wednesdays, and Fridays. The main goal of the concert band is to earn a superior rating at the state band contest.

Mary Anderson and Cheryl Gustafson prepare for the next band performances.

Many hours of practice paid off this year as the Band received a superior rating at the State Music Contest.

BAND WORKS FOR CONTEST

Cheryl Gustafson reaps the benefits of hard practice.

Shirley Melton runs through the contest numbers "one last time".

Steve Benson and Charlie Swanson work out the difficult lines in their music.

BAND

A state music contest is held every year to give credit to individual or group work in band and chorus. This year class C music contest was held at Western Illinois University in Macomb. Cambridge did exceptionally well by receiving seven superior ratings.

After entering your solo or ensemble, the work really starts. Mr. Burrus really helps everyone by working with them during free periods or after school until "D-day" approaches.

A typical day would go something like this. Leaving at six in the morning you would finally reach your destination, and hurry to find your warm-up room and contest center. You wait nervously until it's time for your performance or performances, and when your time comes you go to meet your fate, hoping for the superior rating.

FOR PROMISING VOICES

CHORUS

In the past years at CHS, there have been three different choruses for students to join--girl's, boy's, and mixed. This year, due to the limited amount of practice time, the three choruses have been combined to form one large, mixed chorus.

The chief aim of any choral work is to train students to read music, to acquaint them with different phases of music, and to teach them to harmonize. To become a member of the chorus, a student must have an audition with Mr. Burrus, choral director, before he is officially accepted.

The mixed chorus meets twice weekly in the morning on Tuesdays and Thursdays and during activity period on Mondays and Thursdays. By this system, choral members have ample time to prepare for their many public appearances and music contests. It also allows some students with first hour classes, who otherwise could not participate in chorus, a chance to belong to this organization by having them practice twice weekly in the afternoon. Consequently, the chorus has grown to the large size of eighty-three members.

This year the mixed chorus went to the state choral contest held at Western Illinois University in Macomb, Illinois. Members tried out for a chance to attend, since only a select group could participate. The chorus also took part in the Cornbelt Conference Festival held at Rockridge. There all of the choruses from the schools in our conference meet to participate in a program that is presented to the public in the evening.

Another activity for individuals with vocal talent was the State Music Contest held March 12th at Western Illinois University. Students work independently on their own time to prepare a musical number for competition.

In addition to these outside activities, the chorus also put on a Christmas Concert and Spring Concert in cooperation with the band.

Mr. Burrus helps Cynthia Leander with the beat of a song the chorus is working on.

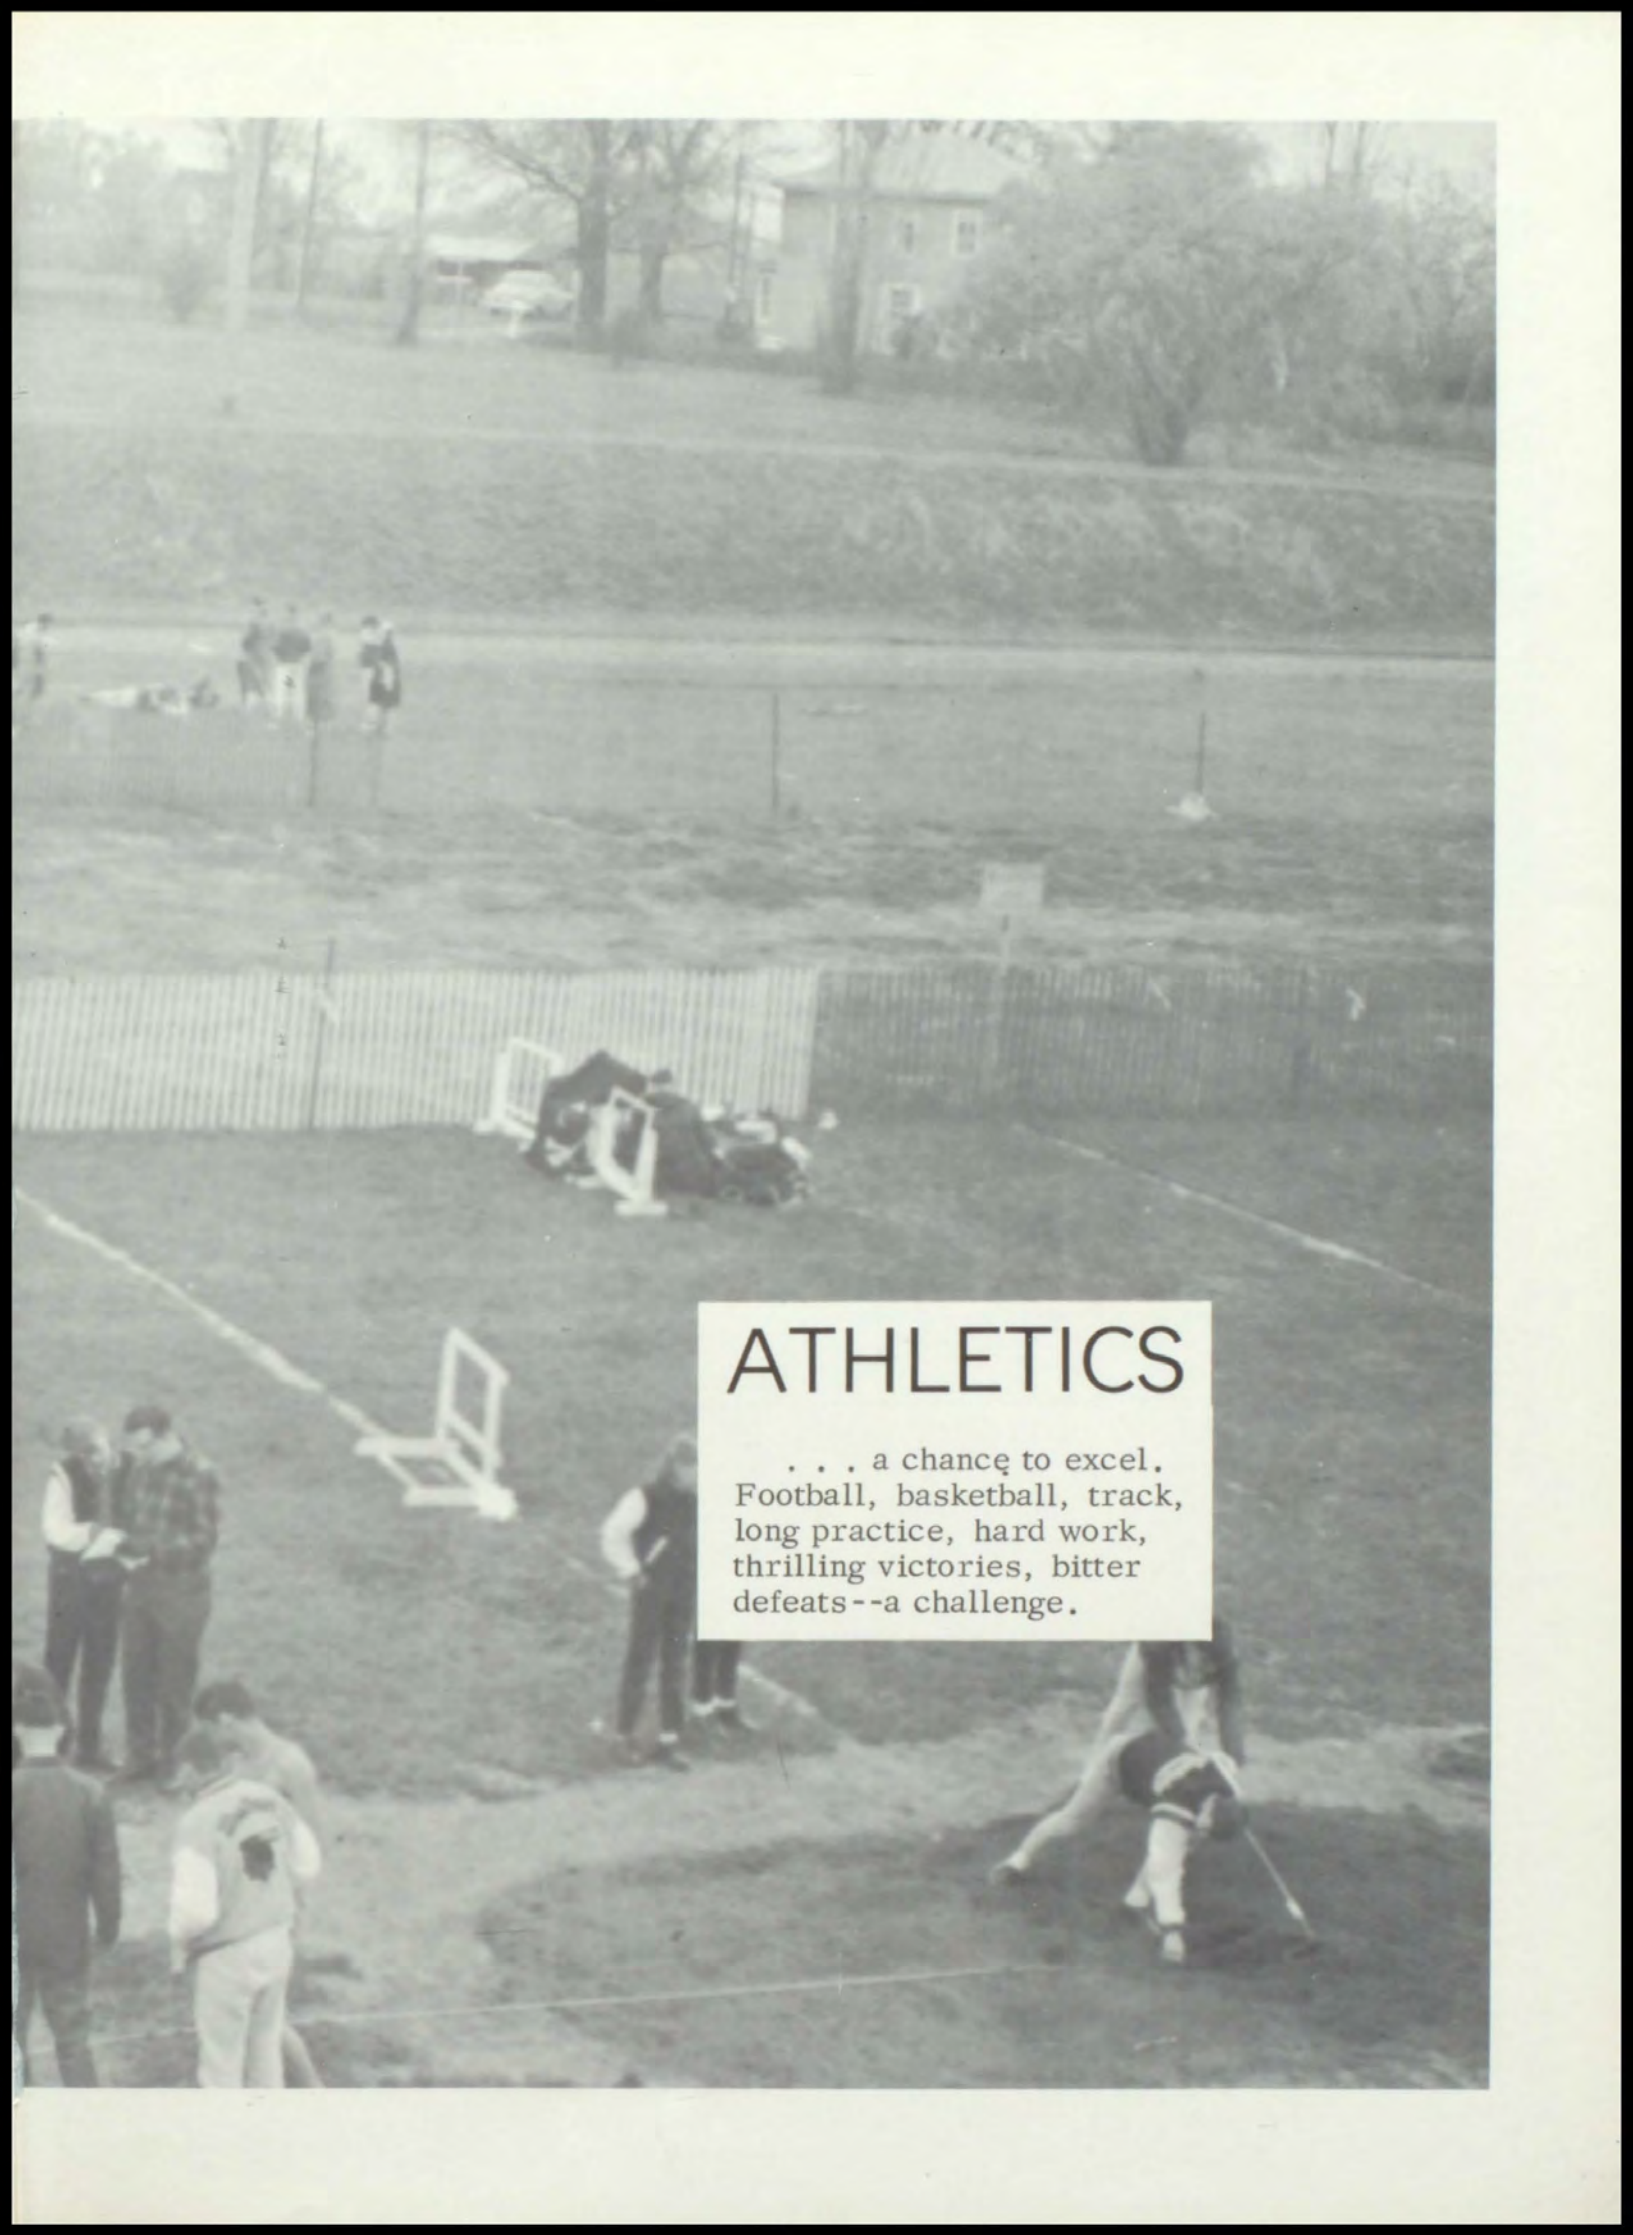

The sopranos find "that one high part" very difficult.

FRESH-SOPH FOOTBALL

Coach Jack Devinney's Fresh-Soph team posted a winning season in the Cornbelt Conference which is growing tougher each year. The season saw everything from a 22-yard field goal by Westmer to a victory over Rockridge in the final three minutes of the game. As the end of this game grew near, Rockridge thought they had the game in the bag, but Cambridge came to life in the final minutes with two thrilling touchdowns to win the game. As you can see, the Junior Varsity fans saw many exciting games this year.

Hindered by a lack of size, the team made up for it by speed, hard practice, and a fierce desire to win. Many freshmen broke into the lineup this year who showed great potential for an equally fine team next fall while many sophomores showed ability which will prove valuable on next year's varsity squad.

Orion, with a perfect record of 7-0 posted championship honors in conference play.

VARSITY FOOTBALL--1965

Although the Vikings, coached by Stan Truckenbrod, lost their first game to Erie (25-0), they bounced back with decisive wins over Sherrard (32-7) and Westmer (26-0) to put them in front of the conference race. Then disaster struck in the form of three consecutive losses, Atkinson (26-6), Orion (20-14), and Rockridge (23-6). The loss to Orion was particularly a heart-breaker because with the score tied and only two seconds left in the game, the Chargers passed for a touchdown ruining our homecoming. Showing their best form of the season, the Vikings came back strong and won their last two games over Winola (32-18) and Alwood (12-6) to put them in a tie for 3rd place in the conference. Cambridge fans should be able to look forward to a strong conference contender next year because with a lack of seniors on the squad this year, plenty of juniors got necessary experience.

Bob Peterson is stopped on the 10-yard line at the end of a long run.

FRESH-SOPH

Paced by speed, quickness, and a fiery determination, the Fresh-Soph, junior varsity squad of Coach Stan Truckenbrod ended the 1965-1966 basketball season with a record of eleven wins and seven losses an impressive record. After losing their first two conference games the team mixed a slow-down game with the threat of ever-ready speed to win four conference games in a row at one time during the season to capture a tie for second place in the conference standings. As the season passed along, the boys gained poise, confidence, and valuable experience. In beating Atkinson in the last game of the season, the team took possession of the Fresh-Soph "ear of corn" which they will keep until the Fresh-Soph team is beaten next season.

The nucleus of the team was composed of mostly sophomores although many different combinations were used. The scoring attack was led by Tom Reed with a 12 point per game average, Mike Johnson with a 9 point average per game and Bill Lindburg also with a 9 point average per game.

Mike Johnson tries for another two points to assure the team of a Fresh-Soph victory.

Coach Truckenbrod's feelings about the team were expressed in this way: "I was very pleased with the performance of the Fresh-Soph team this year."

VARSITY BASKETBALL '65-'66

After a slow start the Vikings, coached by George Birkett, turned face and went on to compete in one of the most successful seasons in recent years. Winning only two out of their first eight games, the Vikings seemed unable to find a winning combination. Early-season losses to Orion, Alwood, and Sherrard dashed the Vikings' chances for a conference championship. However, during the Cambridge Holiday Tournament, Coach Birkett's team found its winning combination, placing third in the tournament. After this they went on to win eight straight games before losing to Neponset and AlWood. After the Neponset-AlWood losses, the Vikings compiled a seven game winning streak. The three one point victories over Atkinson were the highlight of the season. These close victories ruined Atkinson's chances for sole possession of first place in the conference. Cambridge, missing the conference championship by only one game, came in a close third. In the district tournament Cambridge beat Yorkwood before bowing to a tough Warren of Monmouth team. The team ended the season with a 17-9 record. Some of the 1965-66 players gained special recognition. Dave Jones was placed on the first-string Cornbelt All-Conference team, while Clyde Maertens and Bob Peterson made the second team.

Because the sophomore and juniors on the Varsity squad saw plenty of action this year, Viking fans can look forward to another successful season next year.

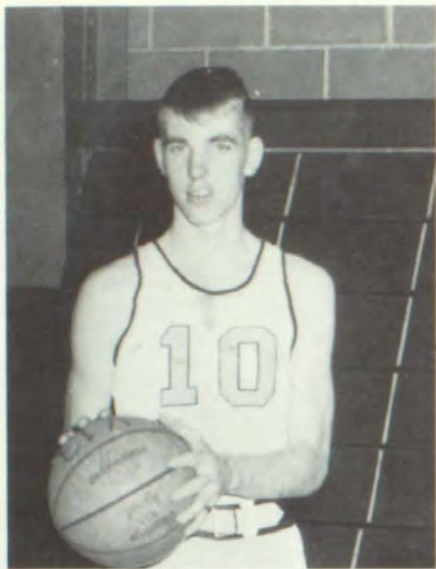

Dave Jones goes up for another two points against Alwood.

TRACK 1966

Coached by Alan Rumley this year's track team completed the most successful season in Cambridge history. With the power to get the first places and the depth for extra points, the Vikings won all but one of their dual or triangular meets. At the Galva Relays several boys came through to place Cambridge seventh out of twenty-five schools, the best Cambridge has ever placed there in recent years. The highlight of the season was the Cornbelt Conference meet in which Cambridge came in a close second to Orion. This also is the highest the Vikings have placed in many years. Several school records were erased this year in the 100-yard dash, in the high jump, and in the mile relay. Gale Fossum, Tom Reed, and Dave Jones threw well in the discus and shot put. Cambridge was well represented in the distance runs by Steve Hultgren in the 880 yard run and Dick DeBoever in the 880 and mile run.

Mike Shortall gives all he has in an effort to win the 100 yard dash.

"VIKING-A-GO-GO" AGAIN

Barbara Nelson feels like she is a part of CHS after the All-School Party.

ALL-SCHOOL PARTY

The All School Party was held in the gym on Friday night September 10, 1965. After a half an hour of dancing, the freshmen produced "Viking-A-Go-Go," which featured a number of freshmen stars including "Rocky and the Pebbles," a rock'n roll group, and the Go-Go girls. Since there wasn't any official freshmen initiation this year, the seniors contented themselves with dancing to the latest records.

Later in the evening, refreshments were served by the senior class. After the refreshments there was more dancing until everybody's back was sore. The traditional bunny-hop line even had a new song this year. Everyone hopped to WHERE THE ACTION IS. At 10:30 another enjoyable party ended, giving the freshmen a preview of the many fine parties they will enjoy in their four years at CHS and the seniors another fond memory. The freshmen were then officially a part of the CHS student body.

HOMECOMING--1965

Friday night, October 15, 1965, crowds of screaming Cambridge fans were cheering their hearts out trying to urge the Vikings to victory. The game, however, was lost to our arch enemy Orion in the last second by six points.

The wild cheering was still echoing at the Homecoming Dance held on Saturday night. Alumni, friends, parents, and students enjoyed dancing to the music of Don Clute or gazing at the "Homecoming '65" decorations erected by the Student Council.

At 9 o'clock the royal procession marched down the aisle of the gym and Cynthia Leander and Clyde Nimrick were crowned queen and king of the '65 Homecoming. They were attended by Judy Anderson, Dave Jones, Cheryl Dahlberg, Dale Settles, Pat DeBoever, Dick DeBoever, Charlene Johnson, and Steve Hutchinson, all of whom are seniors.

As the dance ended, everyone was happy to look back on three days of activities such as the snakedance and bonfire on Thursday, the game, the parade uptown, and the dance.

The dance floor was crowded by couples dancing to the music of Don Clute at the Homecoming Dance.

CARNIVAL--1965

The sophomore candidates Tom Reed and Carol Telleen reigned over Carnival '65.

Cheryl Gustafson watches Dave Dobles put the finishing touches on one of the many signs to be used at the Carnival.

Everyone knew it was Carnival time again when they were bombarded with tickets to spaghetti and chili suppers; offers to rake leaves, wash windows or cars, and clean attics; pick up corn; or come to bake sales. The high school students were out for another all-out contest to see which class could raise the most money at work projects. The preliminaries to the big night took many hours and a lot of work. Finally the night of the Viking Carnival, November 13, 1965, arrived, and everyone was in the mood to play Smear-A-Viking, Cake Walk, or Break-A-Record and to enjoy the program demonstrating an entirely new method of first aid. The equipment for the first aid basket was easy to find--saws, hammers, wheelbarrows, hogwash, and jellyrolls.

The big moment came when Sophomores, Carol Telleen and Tom Reed, were crowned queen and king by last year's royalty, Trish Mariman and Ron Reed. They were attended by Debbie Johnson and Ed Hedbloom, freshmen; Terry Efaw and Clyde Maertens, juniors; and Cheryl Dahlberg and Dale Settles, seniors.

The sophomores had broken all previous records and the Carnival was a resounding success.

Everyone seems to be having fun while decorating for Carnival.

CHRISTMAS SEASON AT CHS

CHRISTMAS SEASON

As the Christmas season rapidly approached CHS, the building was filled with Christmas sights, smells of the baking Home Ec. cookies, and sounds of the traditional carols issuing from the band room.

The Christmas Concert presented by the band and chorus officially ushered in the season on December 12, 1965. The numbers played ranged from old favorites; such as, SILVER BELLS, SLEIGH RIDE, and WHITE CHRISTMAS to such classic numbers as, BESIDE THY CRADLE HERE I STAND, AND THE GLORY OF THE LORD, and HALLELUJAH CHORUS. Everyone who attended the concert was struck by a prevailing feeling of Christmas. The concert was only the beginning of the festivities. The Honor Society held their annual Christmas Party on the following Friday night of December 17 with music furnished by the Intruders which helped to put everyone in a festive spirit and made the party one of the best held all year. As the dance ended at 11 o'clock, the tired dancers agreed that the Christmas spirit couldn't be overcome by anything--even curfew. In a few days school was out and everyone began celebrating Christmas in their own way.

A familiar sight at the Christmas dance.

SWEETHEARTS, VALENTINES

Ron Franck and Nancy Snell reigned over the Sweetheart Ball.

SWEETHEART BALL

Along comes February bringing Valentines Day and another dance. On February 12, 1966, the annual Sweetheart Ball sponsored by the FFA and FHA was held. Dancing under the huge shimmering Valentine, the couples soon became aware of its magic spell. After much planning and preparation, the Future Homemakers and Future Farmers created an evening especially designed for "sweethearts". The red and white decorations and the music of the Capri's helped to give the gym a romantic glow.

The highlight of the evening came when Nancy Snell and Ron Franck, juniors, were crowned Sweetheart and Heartthrob by Jerry Gibson and Nancy Carlson, who reigned the year before. They were attended by Charlene Johnson and Dick Gorden, seniors; Jolene Schieferdecker and Steve Benzon, sophomores; and Kaye Beusling and Brad Munson, freshmen. The candidates were chosen by the FHA and FFA and must be members of one of these organizations.

As the end of the dance approached, another evening had ended leaving a wealth of memories and a faint lingering of Cupid's spell.

GREAT CAESAR'S GHOST!

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

When the curtains opened on the junior class play, which was performed on April 1, 1966, it climaxed many long hours of hard work by the cast, crew, and the director, Mrs. Stan Truckenbrod. But all this hard work paid off, for both the juniors and the audience. The play was one of the funniest staged in years, and both it and the cast will long be remembered at C.H.S.

As the story opens, Helen Maxwell and Deborah De Royster are plagued by their "problem" mothers, and search for a way to cure them from spiritualism forever. "Great Caesar's Ghost"; Majah the Mystic; Dick, the neighbor boy; the Maxwell's servants, Johnson, Esther, and Hattie; Uncle Phineas; Aunt Polly; and Tommy Tucker further complicate matters until a brilliant idea evolves. Through a little trickery, the girls completely cure their mothers and also gain their mothers' acceptance of Deborah's new clothes and Helen's boyfriend. In the end everyone but Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. DeRoyster, too confused to know, agree that "Great Caesar's Ghost" had saved the day.

Darrell Vincent finishes applying Jim Carlson's (Majah on stage) make-up just before the Jr. Class Play.

Great Caesar's Ghost is up to his usual antics and out-tricks the Majah.

THERE'S MUSIC IN THE AIR

SPRING CONCERT

The official opening of spring and May came on May 1, 1966, when the chorus and band presented their annual Spring concert. This year it was an especially exciting concert since both the chorus and band had earned their first "superiors" at contest.

The chorus opened the program by presenting such spring-like numbers as "Consider Yourself", "No Man Is An Island", and "Hi, Ho, Nobody Home". The girls' chorus rounded out the program by singing "The Green Leaves of Summer" and "Ifca's Castle". The chorus also dedicated their contest number, "Cherubim Song" to Miss Florence Swanson.

The band played "The Sound of Music", "Still is the Night", "Chorale and Capriccio", and many other well-known songs.

The many special numbers included "Liebestraum", a piano solo played by Cynthia Leander; "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," a baritone solo played by Susan Wells; "Little Wheel A Turnin' ", sang by the octet; "Scherzino", played by the flute trio; and "Climb Every Mountain", a bass solo sang by Gale Fossum.

Mr. Burrus gives Mary Anderson a little help on a number for the spring concert.

FROSH-SOPH ENJOY OP-HOP

HOP

The Freshman-Sophomore Hop was held on April 29, 1966, at 8 o'clock. The theme was a new, art craze, op art. The Op-Hop featured paper covered tables complete with crayons for everyone to draw their favorite op art design. The couples enjoyed dancing on the op-dance floor. There was music from records and live music from the Centaurs, a local group composed of Kevin Gustafson, Steve Benzon, Dave Reppert, Lonnie Gustafson, and Bryan Reppert. The program consisted of an original skit with famous sophomore celebrities as its actors and actresses.

At 9:30 the highlight of the dance came when Brad Munson and Debbie Johnson were crowned prince and princess of the hop by last year's royal couple, Larry Stahl and Sharon Peterson. Refreshments, which carried out the theme of the hop, were also served.

It seemed to every freshman and sophomore that 11 o'clock came too soon, and another memorable party was over, leaving the freshmen with thoughts of next year's party and the sophomores with fond memories.

Prince Brad Munson and Princess Debbie Johnson reigned over the Op-Hop.

A lot of sophomore celebrities (Fred Heck, Dave Reppert, and Carol Mecum) show how to be a celebrity.

Dave Dobbles, another celebrity, takes part in the skit at the Hop.

DANCING IN THE OLD SOUTH

Sophomore waiters and waitresses served the banquet to anxious upperclassmen. Right now, they're taking a break.

Dick DeBoever and Cheryl Dahlberg were crowned prom king and queen within the walls of the "Old South".

PROM

By the evening of May 6, the juniors had transformed the ordinary, gym and cafeteria into the beautiful "Old South". The traditional banquet, served by "colorful" waiters and waitresses, and program were held first. The program consisted of the welcome by the junior class president, the response by the senior class president, "Swanee" sung by the octate, and the class prophecy. The toastmaster was Ron Reed. Upon entering the gym, couples strolled by the brightly lit mansion, danced around a tree festooned with Spanish moss, or sat within the garden wall. Dick DeBoever and Cheryl Dahlberg were crowned prom king and queen.

After the dancing, the after prom activities started in the bowling alley. The movie, CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF, was shown, and bowling continued into the wee small hours of the morning. At 4:30, breakfast was served leaving tired juniors looking forward to next year's prom and weary seniors with fond memories of their latest CHS prom.

STUDENTS COLLECT HONORS

HONORS' ASSEMBLY

The Honors' Assembly for the 1965-1966 school year was held May 19, 1966. The newly elected 1966-67 student council was installed. Mr. Burrus presented the four-year band and chorus pins to seniors, and Mrs. Kenward passed out silver pins to the librarians who had earned 170 points. GAA awards were given out by Mrs. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Birkett gave out the track awards to Bob Peterson, Dave Jones, and Jim Hancock. He also gave out cheerleading letters and announced three new track records. Mr. Wigant gave out the Viking Staff awards, Mr. Worley announced the award winners for FFA, and Miss Lawrence presented the FHA awards.

Special awards were given out to Judy Anderson, GAA achievement trophy; Bill Schumaker, Johnson Math Award; and Laurel Heck, Betty Crocker Award. The cheerleaders were presented the cheerleading trophy for the third year. The top ten percent of the senior class, Janet Bloom, Dick De Boever, Alan Johnson, Barbara Pickens, Donna Swanson, and Susan Wells, was also announced.

Students watch with interest as their classmates are honored.

Now officially alumni of CHS, the Seniors are congratulated in the reception line after commencement.

"ONLY THE BEGINNING"

GRADUATION

From the starting of school in the fall, the main topic of conversation for the seniors was graduation. Finally, the final two weeks before the great night arrived. The first senior activity was class night, held on May 17 at the Watch Tower Inn.

On Sunday, May 29 the seniors finally reached Commencement Week. That night they attended Baccalaureate services and appeared for the first time in their caps and gowns. This week was the best for seniors, especially when they could legally "skip" school on May 31.

Finally, June 2 arrived. As the seniors marched up to the stage to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance", twelve long years seemed to flit before their eyes. Alan Johnson gave the valedictory, Donna Swanson gave the salutatory, and Barbara Pickens, class representative, gave her address. Principal Wayne Buhlig presented the class to Mr. Jack Sherrard, president of the Board of Education, for the awarding of the diplomas.

As relatives and friends crowded around the 62 graduates, the foremost thought in every senior's mind was "Only the Beginning".

Donna Swanson receives her diploma which marks the end of a high school education and a new beginning.

THE '66 VIKING IS DONE

IN CLOSING

The '66 VIKING is done. We hope that we have put into these few pages some of the memories of your freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior year at CHS. That is what we have tried to do. We want you to remember every dance, game, class, and event now and in years to come through the pictures and words printed here. The staff has worked hard for this purpose.

As you read through this book--the school has already changed. The class of '66 has gone. They have spread out, gotten jobs, entered college. A new group of freshmen have arrived and, the school goes on as it always will. This book is a stopping place--a chance to look back, and we hope that you enjoy it.

Now we would like to thank everyone on or off the staff who has helped us with the '66 VIKING. There are Jim and Charlie, the photographers. They have spent many hours taking pictures and many more developing them. We are sure you appreciate their pictures as you look through your annual, and we know that we appreciate their work. The writers, too, spent a lot of time preparing copy that captures for you hours at dances, games, in classrooms, and at school. We on the staff think they did a particularly good job this year. One of the most important parts of Viking Staff is the typists who devote a lot of their time (Saturdays too) to fitting copy, writing headlines and captions, and typing copy. This work often gets boring after a few hours and usually goes unnoticed, but the typists kept at it. Our typists, Donna and Janet, certainly deserve our thanks. Any help with the annual was appreciated and still is.

Once more we would like to say we hope you enjoy your annual. The staff has worked hard all year producing it, and we hope that these pages recall to you many memories of CHS '65-'66. Again we would like to thank everyone who helped produce the '66 VIKING.
